system can rally a majority of the Assembly, is willing to let the deputies try to work out a solution. He has warned, however, that unless agreement has been reached Tuesday night by the time the debate is scheduled to end, he will ask for a vote of confidence on the single issue of ending the life of the present Assembly on Jan. 2.

It was considered certain he would win on that test. Deputies are hard to find who are willing to be recorded as opposing new elections.

Immediately after the Assembly adopted the recommendations of the Agenda Committee on the dates for the election debate, the deputies went to work on another problem close to their hearts. This was the right of Frenchmen to have their fruit made into alcohol privately, on payment of a very small tax.

As part of his campaign against alcoholism, Mendes-France issued a decree limiting this right to persons whose primary occupation is agriculture. The original intent of the privilege was to permit fruit growers to have their private stocks of alcohol for home consumption. But the number of "fruit growers" kept rising until some 3,800,000 Frenchmen were taking advantage of the opportunity. The decree would have withdrawn the privilege from about a million private distillers.

Pledge Renewed By Earl K. Long In Tallulah Talk

TALLULAH, Oct. 28 (Special) — Candidate for Governor Earl K. Long said here Friday, "That he will return Louisiana government to one of benefit for all the people in the state when he is elected in January."

Long and members of his ticket spoke Friday at Wisner, Newellton and Tallulah.

The former governor stressed the four major planks in his platform. In connection with the school lunch program which he has promised will be free for needy school children.

Long paid tribute to the Louisiana P.T.A. The P.T.A. was behind the school lunch when he was governor in 1939, he said. Long and the late T. H. Harris, then superintendent of education in Louisiana, began the state aid and support that became the pattern for the nation, he said.

Speaking with Long were, Lettler Frazer, candidate for Lt. Governor; Jack P. F. Gremillion, candidate for Attorney General; Sidney McCrory, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture; Bill Dodd, candidate for State Auditor; Lucille May Grace, candidate for Register of State Lands and Camille Gravelle, Democratic National Committeeman from Louisiana.

publicans, who want to ditch his system of supporting farm prices on a flexible basis, and to return to the high, rigid supports that were started in wartime.

Yesterday Farm Journal at Philadelphia reported that Atty. Gen. Brownell, Postmaster General Sumnerfield and presidential assistant Harold E. Stassen had tried to oust the agriculture secretary.

The White House denial, which assistant press secretary Murray Snyder said was made on behalf of Brownell, Sumnerfield and Stassen, declared that "the entire administration is working with the secretary of agriculture toward the objective of assuring the nation farmers a fair share of Americas prosperity."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican Senate leader, said in a Washington talk today that Benson is an "able and conscientious public official deserving of wholehearted support by the administration, the Congress and the country."

Benson will visit with President Eisenhower at Denver tomorrow.

10,000 British Troops Attempt To Quell Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Oct. 28 —UP — More than 10,000 British troops led by commandos and supported by native police turned out Friday to quell pro-Greek riots in five Cyprus cities.

At least 50 persons were injured. Three rioters suffered bullet wounds when Highland troops fired into a recalcitrant mob in Morphou. Scores of soldiers and brown-shirted students were bruised by police clubs and rioters' stones in Nicosia, Famagusta, Larnaca and Limassol, and scores more were arrested.

Terrorist bombs exploded in Limassol and Famagusta, but so far as is known they caused no casualties.

(Fifty-three persons, 21 Greek police and 32 rioters were injured Friday when similar riots flared in Athens.)

In the past, British troops here have been comparatively gentle with pro-Greek agitators, but the gloves were off Friday following the death Thursday of Cpl. Angus Milne, first British victim of the underground which has terrorized Cyprus for seven months.

The pretext for the riots was the day, marking the 15th anniversary of the Italian invasion of Greece in the early days of World War II.

Experts Brand Automation As Bitter, But Good

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Two experts today described automation as something like medicine—bitter going down but beneficial in the end.

They were the final witnesses in a Senate-House investigation of the effects the increasing use of machinery in industry is expected to have on the nation's economy.

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, the first chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers after it was set up in 1946, told the legislators automation is an extension of the age-old process of mechanization. He said that in all technological progress, "There have been severe short-run dislocations, local catastrophes and painful readjustments for both employers and employees."

Nourse agreed with many previous witnesses, however, that in the long run automation will create more jobs than it destroys.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, testified that personally he had "no great fears" that automation will not benefit society as a whole.

"It is a different story when it comes to the individual," he told the subcommittee.

"It is incumbent upon us so to guide the change that an absolute minimum of injustice is done to any individual, and so that the social benefits far outweigh the distress that may be caused."

Nourse said he would answer with "an unqualified 'no'" the question as to whether the subcommittee should recommend specific legislation to deal with problems caused by automation.

But he emphasized that Congress should realize that every time it acts on taxes, farm price supports, stockpiling and a host of other matters it is making decisions which affect free enterprise and thus the problems that automation brings.

Chairman Patman (D-Tex) said a report will be made later by the subcommittee. He indicated, however, that it will probably not make any recommendations for legislation.

Two Persons Die In Auto Accident

GRENADA, Miss., Oct. 28 (AP) — An automobile and a truck collided today on highway 51, killing two persons and injuring another critically.

Highway patrolmen identified the dead as:

G. C. McCall of Grenada, owner of a truck stop; and Barbara Wilson of Grenada, his employee.

Rosie Tillman Gran, another employee, was injured.

The patrol identified the driver of the truck as H. C. Williams of Sledge and said he was uninjured. Williams was alone.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for McCall.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete for Miss Wilson.

Over 300 Teachers Attend Convention

The Louisiana Music Teachers Association opened its fourth annual convention with registration Thursday night in the lobby of the Fine Arts Building on the campus of Northeast State College.

Attendance Friday was in excess of 300 music teachers and other interested parties from all over the state.

The opening night feature was a concert by the Twin City Symphony Orchestra with Harry Lomert, of Northeast State, directing.

The state association is an affiliate of the Music Teachers National Association.

Annual Homecoming Is Celebrated By Neville

Neville High School celebrated its annual homecoming yesterday with a gala parade through downtown Monroe, the crowning of a beauty queen to reign for the day, a football game with Tallulah, and an after-game dance.

The parade, originally scheduled for 1 p.m., was cancelled by school officials when the wind and rainstorm lashed the Twin Cities, and no relief was in sight, according to the weather bureau, before 4 p.m.

Shortly after the parade was cancelled, however, the clouds disappeared, and the parade was rescheduled for 3 p.m. and held despite the fact that students were handicapped by only a brief period in which to decorate cars and floats.

But the spirit of homecoming was evident. It was difficult to distinguish the hastily prepared

So far, the only reason given for the suspension was that Walker considered their further presence in the jobs, while the investigation continued, might be "questioned."

Lamothe and Lee were unavailable for comment.

Woman Critical After Surgery

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 27 (AP) — Mrs. Jean Vallery, shot by her husband, was in critical condition today after an emergency brain operation here.

Alexandria police said Vallery, a policeman, shot his wife twice and then killed himself in Alexandria last Saturday.

Police raised about $1,200 toward a $2,400 fund for her medical expenses.

Dr. G. K. Keegan Convention Speaker

Dr. G. Kearney Keegan, secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention's student department, addressed the Baptist student convention here last night. The convention, a state wide affair, is being held in the College Place Baptist Church.

He will speak again at 7:15 p.m. Saturday and at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Hiccups Steady On 30th Birthday Of Jack O'Leary

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28 (AP)—Jack O'Leary, who has been hiccuping since his appendix ruptured more than seven years ago, will be 30 years old tomorrow.

It won't be a happy birthday for the emaciated former market manager. His mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, said, "Jack is failing. He seems to have given up hope."

Formerly he liked to see people but recently he prefers to be by himself, she said.

Able to retain a little light food and tea, O'Leary attends church regularly and watches television a little. He is too weak from the wracking hiccups for much else.

He was stricken June 13, 1948. Except for respites of a few days in Phoenix, Ariz., he has been hiccuping steadily, night and day, since.

More than 200 doctors have treated him. He has tried hundreds of cures, including hypnosis, medicines and psychiatry. Nothing has helped.

Jack weighs 74 pounds. Before his illness he weighed 135. During the past year he developed diabetes and his mother said he has had several heart attacks.

Bar Association Clears Sheppard On His Remarks

TYLER, Tex., Oct. 27 (AP)—An official grievance committee of the Texas Bar Assn. today voted that no action should be taken on remarks of the Texas attorney general about the Court of Criminal Appeals and one of its justices.

The committee, meeting in the Smith County courthouse, overrode Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd's request for an open meeting and declined to call into its chambers the 13 witnesses he had called in his behalf.

The meeting lasted from 1:30 p.m. until 5:45 p.m., with the attorney general and two of his assistants sitting before the board from 3:35 p.m. until the session's end.

The official action which the board could have taken included that of requesting an official reprimand from the State Bar Assn. for Shepperd's remarks.

The filing of disbarment proceedings was another, although unlikely, course for the committee to have taken.

The attorney general said he assumed the complaints were made in connection with his remarks about a Court of Criminal Appeals decision on Oct. 5 which knocked out 104 Duval County indictments.

The 104 indictments in turbulent Duval County were overturned when the case of R. L. Adame, the school superintendent, convicted of misuse of public funds, was overturned on the grounds the grand jury which indicted him had been improperly formed. This threw out the other indictments made by that grand jury.

The jury actions had been upheld 2-1 previously by the court. But that was before the election of Judge Davidson. In the Adame case, he sided with the previous minority to reverse the earlier decision.

Later, Shepperd said that Judge Davidson had expressed an opinion on the cases before they were presented to the court.

Dist. Atty. Burris said also that Davidson was supported in his election campaign by George Parr, political power in Duval County who faces several indictments and suits.

The grievance committee included Potter, Steve Miller, Tyler;

Calcasieu Parish Police Juror Rapped By Auditor

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 28 (P) — State Auditor Allison Kolb said in an audit today there were "highly questionable" parish purchases authorized by Calcasieu police juror L. M. Thompson.

In his report on the police jury for the year ending Dec. 31, Kolb said there were two instances in which Thompson admitted billing the parish for a total of $108 in repairs to his Dodge pickup truck and for a tire and tube. Thompson said the parish payments were in error.

"In an interview in the district attorney's office on Aug. 27," the report said, "Mr. Thompson admitted that the Dodge pickup truck belonged to him personally and that the 8 by 15 tire and tube were installed on his personally owned Lincoln automobile."

"He maintained that the vendors made the payment charges to the parish in error, that these items should have been charged to his personal account, that he overlooked this fact when he approved the bills for payment out of parish funds," the audit said.

During the week following, it added, Thompson refunded the $108 to the parish treasurer.

Kolb said when the vendors involved were questioned, one reported he had declined Thompson's efforts to accept cash instead, contending he could not do so because "he would not accept the blame for the error."

The audit said H. U. McGill, of McGill Supply Co., Orange, Texas, which made the truck repairs, reported he felt sure the charge to the parish instead of to Thompson personally was "not an accidental error on the part of McGill Supply Co."

"There were a number of other transactions pertaining to the ward which seemed highly questionable," Kolb wrote.

He mentioned purchase of $181 in tractor parts for a machine Thompson owned and claimed was used at times in parish work, and $20 for wrecker service involving a Ford flatbed truck, which Thompson was unable to identify.

The audit also mentioned $447 in purchases of welding supplies for the ward, which "seem to be an unusually large amount of welding supplies for so little equipment" in the ward.

The audit of the Calcasieu Police Jury also reminded that Nelson Meaux was paid $6,091 for painting work without a record of any advertising for bids, as required by law.

The Plaquemines Parish police jury, in another report for the year ending Dec. 31, was reminded that the law does not permit public agencies to donate charity causes.

Among the donations held illegal were contributions of $800 and $500 to the Red Cross, $1,770 to American Legion posts, $300 to the American Cancer Society, $1,500 to Boy Scouts and $1,000 to Girl Scouts. Another criticized donation involved $250 for Red Cross Christmas baskets.

"However worthy" such contributions were, the audit continued, they violated the law.

A third audit commended the Louisiana Building Authority — which controls millions of dollars — for "excellent" records and files and "satisfactory controls and procedures."

The authority has issued 22 million in construction bonds and has another 29 million on tap to be issued when needed.

Smog Blankets New Orleans

Smog has become associated in the public mind with Los Angeles. When it develops two days in a row at New Orleans, causing some deaths and many hospitalizations, we of Louisiana naturally are startled.

The word smog is new, and in ordinary usage it denotes a concentration of chemically-laden smoke and of fog. It develops noticeably only under certain weather conditions, usually in some pattern of inversion.

The New Orleans occurrence should be a warning to all cities and industrial areas of America, where air pollution is present in greater or less degree even in ordinary weather.

Industries are spending huge sums of money to extract harmful chemicals from their smokestacks and ventilating systems, but the fight against atmospheric pollution is a never-ending fight, and constant vigilance is required.

State and local public health authorities have responsibilities in this field. Legislatures have a responsibility, to see that laws intended to mitigate atmospheric pollution are kept up to date; and that these measures carry suitable penalties to the point where they can be enforced.

The air we breathe is our only remaining great untaxed natural resource. The health of our citizens depends upon good clean air. The fight against smog, and other forms of atmospheric pollution, can be won only through vigilant teamwork on the part of industry, public officials and the people.

Red-Controlled Summer Camps

The New York Joint Legislative Committee on charitable organizations has opened a badly needed investigation of communist influences operating in the summer camps of New York State.

Although the probe is far from completed, it has unearthed already some startling evidence showing the extent of the red conspiracy in this field.

Many owners and operators and employees of camps, which annually attract thousands of young persons, not only from New York State but from numerous states, have taken refuge behind the Fifth or other amendments when called before the probers.

Yet cooperative witnesses have revealed that communist propaganda has been taught intensively in a score of these establishments, at least.

Pvt. Stanley Weckin, stationed at Fort Dix, told the Committee that a camp which he attended at Poughkeepsie in 1947 was openly communistic. "Recruits" started indoctrination by learning communist songs and slogans. Two years after attending this camp, he testified, he was pressed into service by the Labor Youth League, a communist organization, as a camp counsellor. The youth were divided into two or more groups, he added, named for Paul Robeson, the American negro communist singer; and for Anna Pauker, then in high favor at the Kremlin as a Hungarian communist dictator; and others.

Among the activities fostered by the reds at these camps, witnesses stated, were collection of funds for the convicted atomic spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who later were executed; and the sending of telegrams aimed at obtaining executive clemency for those two traitors.

New York summer camps naturally are not red in all instances; and, to the contrary, many of them are entirely wholesome in their influences. But it is terrible that even one such camp should be allowed to operate as a school and breeding ground of communist intrigue.

Remedial legislation undoubtedly will be offered in the wake of the Joint Committee's revelations.

The Legion's Membership Drive

The annual membership drive of L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion, is under way, and efforts are being made by officials and members of the organization to increase the membership materially.

Gordon Gibson is Post Commander and Sam Rubin, Jr., is Vice Post Commander and chairman of the membership drive.

All honorably discharged veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict are eligible to join.

On national, state, regional and local levels the American Legion is known and famed for its forthright stand on Americanism, child welfare, national security and rehabilitation.

It is the largest veterans' organization in America, and the most influential—and this is said without meaning in any way to detract from other veterans' organizations that are serving high and worthy purposes.

Legion membership is an asset to any veteran. It aids the ex-service man to make his influence count in such vital affairs as national defense, and in combatting the communist menace at home and abroad.

From the purely practical standpoint, the Legion offers numerous worth-while services on a day-to-day basis.

So if you are eligible, join up; and if at present a member, renew your membership.

Gyroscope Needed

"Cyprus a balance wheel of the Middle East," says a headline over a dispatch from that area of global tension. The world, in its present state of flux, can use balance wheels.

But in the Middle East something more seems to be called for. A gyroscope, perhaps. But at the moment none is available. So, carry on, Cyprus.

THESE DAYS Duty, Respect And Love

Princess Margaret's dilemma faces few girls in this country because duty is a word that bothers us too little. The genius of the House of Windsor, and perhaps the principal reason for its survival, is that when other kings and princes were building personal power and personal fortunes, the descendants of Queen Victoria put the accent on duty.

In a period of changing attitudes toward ancient institutions, the British royal family has stood firmly through two wars and vast imperial losses because they accepted service not to the state but to the people as their chosen duty. Those who had been subjects became the masters, the people triumphed over their lords, and the kings and queens became servants.

Elizabeth I could not have understood that Elizabeth II plead with the press for privacy for her son as he went to school so that he might grow up as other children. In such an atmosphere, the Princess Margaret grew up, reared in a strong sense of duty, adoring a father who unexpectedly became a king, watching a favored uncle reject his throne for the woman he loved and shaking the House of Windsor to its sills. Then came the death of her very young father, leaving a fearful void in her life.

It was in the church that she found the most profound solace. And for that church and for her sister, now Queen Elizabeth, Margaret knew only respect.

Respect is a quality that combines duty with love. To respect the history and tradition of a country is to place restraints upon one's will and one's benefits, surely upon the passions that satisfy one's private desires and hopes. It may be true that Henry VIII used the break with Rome to legitimize his divorces and marriages, but the Anglican, as all Catholic churches, cannot condone divorce without lessening respect for the sanctity of marriages which are, if one has faith, made in Heaven for eternity and not in a night club after half a dozen martinis. So Margaret, loving her sister, the Queen, strong in her sense of duty to the people of the various British nations and respecting the church, its traditions and its history, was torn between these deep, almost primordial emotions, duty, respect and love.

Peter Townsend became her man when she was a teen-ager. And, from all that one can learn, he behaved himself perfectly, never taking advantage of his position or exploiting hers. Had he not behaved with such perfection, it would have been easy for the royal family to banish him forever for the British people do not go in for a wrong one. So the people think well of Peter and so does the royal family and so does everybody else. The only damage is that he divorced his wife, although admittedly she is to blame. The fact that Peter Townsend is a commoner is no factor in the present situation, although it might have upset Victoria and Edward VII who still possessed some German snobishness.

The present breed of British royalty does not despise commoners and the Queen Mother is not directly of a royal line. The Princess Royal, Mary, Margaret's aunt, was married to a Lascelles who was a commoner and it was looked upon as strengthening the royal family. These descendants of Queen Victoria are closer to the ordinary people of England than 19th century European monarchs regarded as permissible or than some of the refugees from countries whose thrones have toppled believe to be correct even though some of them have become proletarians by occupation.

And so Margaret must reconcile duty, respect and love. And she must do it herself, for having reached the age of authority, 25, she has come into rights which were not hers before, one of them being that she can make up her mind.

The law is clear and the law, in England, will be obeyed because it represents order and continuity and a submergence of individual happiness for the public good.

These are heavy burdens to heap upon a young lady and if all the world loves her, it is not for her passion but for her sense of duty, her respect for the rights of others, including a great church, and for the purity and beauty of her love for the man of her choice and the propriety of his conduct under the most difficult circumstances.

THE BIG SMILE

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

Paper Handkerchiefs

The man who invented paper handkerchiefs ought to have a monument in his honor, for he gave us all a wonderful lift when the chill days of winter set our noses to weeping. Especially should we give thanks for the boon they have been and are to the children.

Not so many years ago each properly outfitted schoolchild had a white pocket handkerchief pinned to him somewhere, and the last admonition his mother sent after his retreating footsteps was, "Don't forget to use your handkerchief." He didn't. He used it for all sorts of things. The boy who managed to get his shoes muddled remembered just before entering the school door that the teacher would inspect them, and hastily wiped them with his handkerchief.

The little girl who found her desk a bit dusty polished it nicely with her clean handkerchief. A handkerchief came in handy, too, for a paint rag in emergencies during the art lesson. Any small, treasured article such as a horse chestnut, a set of jacks, the lunch money, could be safely stored in the knotted corner. The use to which it was dedicated went un-served.

Not with the paper handkerchief. Today, thanks to this unsung benefactor, Mother pokes a handful of paper handkerchiefs into the scholar's pocket. There are spares for such emergencies as muddy shoes, sticky hands, dusty desk tops and the rest. One sniff and the teacher lifts a meaningful eyebrow and the paper handkerchief comes into action and the waste-paper basket's invitation is accepted. (It means a privileged walk across the room, too. Always acceptable.)

Now if paper towels and liquid soap can be added to the school furnishings, things will take on a cleaner look all around the place. Some schools are already equipped with basins, hot and cold water, soap and paper towels so that the rules so hard won at home can be reinforced in school. Children who have been playing ball, using clay, soiling their hands in one activity and another, can wash them and get to work again with comfortable hands. Dirty hands can be a heavy handicap on the pupil who must use them. Soiled papers, fine-me are discouraging to both teachers and pupils. Installation of proper toilet accessories is an economic contribution to education.

Yes. They add another field of supervision. The pupils must be trained to dispose of the used paper promptly and neatly. Throwing the wastepaper about the place is not to be allowed. It must be deposited in the baskets provided. That is good training, too. Cheers for the paper accessories.

Stammering is a phase some children go through, but with proper guidance they soon get over this habit. Dr. Patri explains why children stammer and how to overcome this habit in leaflet P-2. Old Taft Banner Will Wave Again

The waiting period forced upon Republican presidential aspirants by President Eisenhower's recuperation will work to the advantage of right wing Republicans, a number of them have pointed out. They have decided neither upon their course of action nor upon their candidate, but in event the president announces that he will not run, they expect to have both.

Reports from the middle west give a positive ring to the forecast by some of the followers of the late Senator Robert A. Taft that the Eisenhower choice for the nomination, if there is one, will not necessarily be the nominee. But in reply to queries as to who could defeat such a choice, there is no immediate answer.

Most discussed possibility at the moment is Senator John Bricker (Rep-Ohio) who has a strong following in his own and neighboring states, is regarded by some senators as the logical political heir of Senator Taft, whose colleague he was, and who was vice presidential running mate of Governor Thomas E. Dewey in 1944.

Bricker made a strong impression on Republican conservatives in 1944 campaign by his speeches and would have been a contender for the nomination in 1948 had he not stepped aside for Taft. There were charges within the Republican party in 1944 that Dewey insisted Bricker be given no major speaking engagements. Their truth is debatable, though Bricker was given the whistle stop circuit. Those who traveled with him were enthusiastic about him as a speaker, but he had few major audiences.

The most important rallying point for members of the Taft wing since the senator's death has been the Bricker amendment, which failed of passage by but a single vote in 1954, though the full opposition of the White House was brought to bear against it. The proposed constitutional change would have limited the president's treaty making power and greatly increased the authority of congress over international agreements.

Present plans of the Taft group envision a fight at the San Francisco convention to get an endorsement of the Bricker amendment into the Republican platform, unless it should be adopted by congress before that, which does not seem likely.

The strategy now quietly being discussed here is to get favorite son endorsements for several of the old Taft group, with a view to concentrate upon a single candidate before the convention opens. With this in mind, possibilities would include Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, in addition to Bricker, and a play for un-instructed delegations in states whose primary and convention rules favor those tactics.

Despite his popularity in the south, the right wing group figures that with President Eisenhower out of the running the reliable party wheel horses there can muster several state delegations which would oppose either Vice President Richard M. Nixon or former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the two most mentioned candidates enjoying the president's favor.

While his friends doubt that Senator Joseph R. McCarthy will seek favorite son designation in his own state of Wisconsin, he is expected to be a delegate and to have a strong voice in the decisions of the Badger state delegates.

Heard in the corridors here is the reasoning that the conservatives finally bowed to Eisenhower in response to public sentiment, but that does not mean they will permit any other Republican to assume the president's mantle without proving his right to it.

The outcome could well be a convention division almost as sharp as that of 1952.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Rev. Busacca is a great credit to the pulpit. And he can deliver an excellent funeral sermon, which is a good test of a clergyman's forensic skill. A funeral address should not be a mere recital of Biblical quotations, but should also demonstrate Mark Antony's good psychology.

Case P-378: Rev. Dwight Busacca, aged 29, is pastor of the Memorial E.U.B. church in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Crane and I were there to attend the funeral of Dan Stair, who had been a neighbor of mine at Fort Wayne, Indiana, 40 years ago.

We sat through the funeral service in the church sanctuary.

"That's the most beautiful funeral service I have ever heard," Mrs. Crane whispered to me, at its conclusion.

Rev. Busacca briefly mentioned Mr. Stair and his positive personality. He told us about his inventive genius and many patents.

Then he cited his constructive work in the community, and finally shifted over to the usual reference from St. John wherein Jesus said: "In my father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you."

It was a very dignified and personalized sermon that inspired everybody in the congregation. And it fulfilled the formula for an ideal funeral sermon, which demands:

(1) Personal mention of the deceased in a laudable manner so that the audience can be inspired by his good deeds or community efforts;

(2) Assurance to the family of the eternal life with the further reinforcement of their faith by use of Christ's positive promise in St. John 14:1-3;

(3) A 10 - minute inspirational message for everybody to exalt the soul and lift people momentarily from this mundane world into a brief glimpse of eternal verities.

A funeral should be a clergyman's greatest evangelistic opportunity for at that time many old reprobrates and others who have drifted far from their ethical childhood moorings, are back in the familiar church pews.

They are then meditative and open-minded. They constitute what we psychologists call a "polarized" audience, for they are already wondering about our purpose on this earth and whither we journey at such a graduation from it.

A clergyman thus has a very unique audience. He gets undivided attention from people who may never be in a church again.

So he should uplift them by a 15-minute dignified sermon, and take them up to the top of the mountain, as Moses went of old, so they can obtain a momentary glimpse into heaven.

A good funeral sermon should also contain specific references to the departed so the congregation will know whether it is a man, woman or child.

Some services are so vague, the listeners don't even know who is in the casket!

Mark Antony showed that a funeral sermon should list some of the specific good deeds of the departed. His selfishness and kindness should be stressed, for those positive virtues are a solace to the family and an inspiration to the living friends.

Relevant quotations from Psalms and the Gospels, as John 1:1-3, are an ideal inclusion, but don't recite scripture exclusively for the entire service.

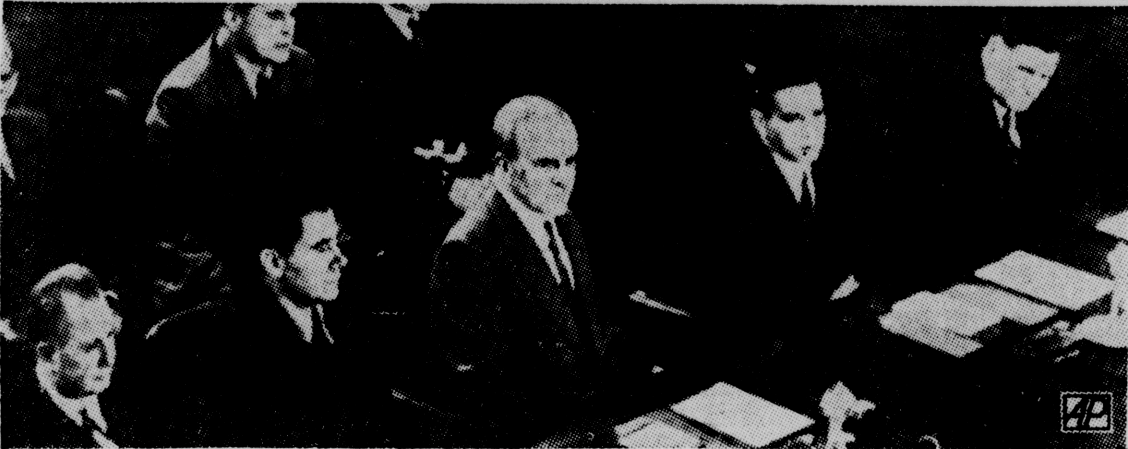

For a recital is never an oration! Every sermon should be an oration of a special, evangelistic sort to inspire and uplift men.

Rev. Busacca's father and the latter's boyhood friend, came over to America from Italy, where they were boys studying for the priesthood. Somehow they got switched to the Evangelical United Brethren denomination.

So Rev. Busacca's father now occupies a pulpit. His son is following in his father's footsteps. And he is great credit to the pulpit. Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Governor Indicates Backing

Kennon Predicts Preaus To Win Home Area; Sees Vote Gain At New Orleans

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Gov. Robert Kennon predicted today Fred Preaus would carry the fifth congressional district in his bid for governor.

He said the odds favored Preaus beating New Orleans Mayor de Lesseps Morrison in the second district.

And the governor, who broke his silence about the campaign for his successor, hinted Preaus had administration support.

It was the first time he has ever done so.

"I would say this now, he told a news conference, 'the great majority of those who were close to me in 1952 now are supporting the Preaus-Moore ticket.'

Commenting on the national scene, Kennon, a pro-Eisenhower Democrat, said he considered Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche "good Democratic presidential timber."

Similar views recently were voiced by Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.).

Kennon also reiterated his oft-expressed view that Sen. Richard Byrd of Virginia and Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas were fine prospects for the Democratic nomination.

Getting on the record in the governor's race, Kennon said Preaus chances in the heavily populated second district were "developing good."

He mentioned the announced support of Jefferson Parish Sheriff Frank Clancy for the Preaus-Moore ticket. New Orleans Councilman A. Brown Moore is Preaus running mate.

The second includes Jefferson Parish and uptown New Orleans. The big city also spreads into the first congressional district and the entire New Orleans area registers more than a fourth of the state ballot.

The fifth is where Preaus support originated for his home is in Farmerville, in northeast Louisiana.

Kennon has remained mum about whether he would back any administration candidate or Preaus, now clearly regarded as the administration man. Preaus was his highway chairman who resigned to enter the campaign leading to the Jan. 17 Democratic primary.

The governor has never denied he wants Preaus to succeed him. And it is widely known throughout the state Kennon is pushing the Preaus candidacy.

The governor was asked for comment on campaign criticisms of his administration by former Gov. Earl Long, one of five who seek the office.

"My answer to all criticism is to continue doing a good job, he remarked.

Father Sought Following Death Of Child Located

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 28—UP—A father involved in a recent mate-swapping marriage hurried here Friday to attend the funeral of one of his children by his former wife.

Richard Johnson was contacted on a trip to California with his new wife and notified his daughter, Karen, 7, had died Monday and was to be buried here.

The child's death at Granite City, Ill., brought to light the mate-swapping of two couples who lived at Chesterton, Ind.

The wives of Johnson and John Heller obtained divorces and switched mates in a double marriage ceremony last Saturday. All close friends, the newly-formed couples then set out by separate autos to make new lives in California.

Johnson went with his new wife, the former Mrs. Heller, and her four children.

Heller went with his new wife, the former Mrs. Johnson, and her two children, including Karen. At Granite City Karen was stricken with a throat infection and died.

The child's body was brought here where Johnson and his first wife formerly lived. Relatives here refused to comment on the marital switch.

Adlai Expected To Announce His Intentions Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—UP—Adlai E. Stevenson will formally launch his campaign for the Democratic nomination soon by announcing his readiness to fight for the prize in state presidential primaries, informed sources said Friday night.

Close supporters of the former Illinois governor predicted Stevenson will announce his candidacy before the Nov. 19 meeting of the Democratic national committee. Stevenson had been expected to announce his plans at that time.

These associates said Stevenson will couple his announcement with a clear indication that he plans to test his strength at the polls in some of the presidential primaries early next year. There are 19 such contests.

Stevenson, the unsuccessful 1952 Democratic contender, is reported to have been consulting with supporters across the country about his chances in various state primaries. While sometimes dubbed "popularity contests," such contests, such contests can help make or break a candidate.

Recent reports have indicated

Stevenson might make his formal hat-in-ring announcement to Minnesota party leaders meeting in Duluth. According to one such report, the announcement would be made in a speech there Saturday night.

Stevenson backers here agreed it was "possible" — but by no means certain — the word will come Saturday.

Crack Detectives Join Search For Chicago Slayers

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—UP—Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor Friday assigned two crack detectives of the homicide squad to help find the killers of three young boys.

O'Connor ordered detectives Tom Devitt and Jack Lubeznik to join 52 police already assigned fulltime to the baffling case.

The nude bodies of Robert Peterson, 13, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11, were found dumped in a ditch in a forest preserve Oct. 18.

Despite one of the biggest police hunts for clues in the city's history and the roundup of dozens of persons, no substantial lead had been turned up.

Surprise Witness Comes To Aid Of Accused Dentist

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 28—UP—The defense rested Friday after a surprise witness testified that he saw a pretty girl leave the auto of Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod, accused of slaying her, and enter a car with two other men on the night of her death.

Taxicab driver Leonard Ugland, 34, testified in the trial of Axilrod, 50-year-old dentist charged with strangling a patient April 22 because she accused him of making her pregnant.

The victim was Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Moonen, 21, whose body was found sprawled in an alley in the fashionable Lake of the Isles district April 23.

The prosecution and defense also wound up rebuttal testimony and the trial was adjourned until Monday when closing arguments will be made. The case is expected to reach the jury late Monday.

Ugland said he parked in the area about 11:15 p.m. He said a black car drew up and parked in front of him with two persons in it. He said he identified them from newspaper photographs he saw later as Axilrod and Mrs. Moonen. "They were arguing very heatedly," Ugland said.

He said the woman slammed the car door and walked around the corner where she got into another car with two men. He said Axilrod drove off with a "roar of the motor."

In rebuttal the state called Fred Holcombe, who works at a gas station which services the taxis of the company employing Ugland. Holcombe, testified Ugland's reputation for truthfulness was "bad."

Parolee Admits Part In Burglaries, Thefts

An 18-year-old penitentiary parolee yesterday admitted seven burglaries and thefts in Monroe after he was picked up by city detectives in the 200 block of Sterling Road, according to Chief of Detectives Hugh Tolbert.

The parolee was identified as David H. Puckett of Sterling Road, Monroe. Puckett hurled a 22 pistol to one side as detectives pulled up near him, Tolbert said. The pistol was reported taken from an automobile owned by J. W. Thompson, 500 Calypso, Thursday night.

The first woman publisher of a daily newspaper in the United States was Mrs. E. J. Holbrook, once owner of the New Orleans Times Picayune.

Five Applications To Drill Filed In Monroe District

Five new applications to drill had been filed yesterday with the Monroe district office of the State of Louisiana Department of Conservation.

Four are for ventures in the Ross Bayou field of Catahoula parish. These are the E. C. Wentworth C. Rhone B-1, B-2, B-3, and B-4, all in Sec. 37-6-7E. Proposed depth for the four tests is approximately 5950 feet, Natchez Drilling Co. doing the work.

The other new stake is for the Union Producing Co. Penrod Jorden No. 22, Sec. 8-11-10E, in the Holly Ridge field of Tensas parish. Proposed depth is 5700 feet, contractor not named.

Carnegie Hero Medal Awarded Posthumously

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28—UP—A 34-year-old Edcouch, Tex., housewife who gave her life in saving a seven-year-old girl from drowning was honored posthumously Friday by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

The woman was Mrs. Isabel S. Flores who lived on Route 1, near Edcouch. She was unable to swim herself but managed to save the life of Guadalupe Webber, who also could not swim.

The child had fallen into an irrigation canal.

Mrs. Flores was one of 28 men, women and teen-aged boys and girls cited by the commission for outstanding acts of heroism.

Five of the heroes — four men and Mrs. Flores — died performing their rescue attempts and were honored posthumously.

Bronze medals went to each hero or his survivors. Pensions totaling $2,800 were awarded in three cases. The commission was established in 1904 by the late Pittsburgh steel magnate, Andrew W. Carnegie. It reviews reports of heroic acts throughout the nation and votes awards three times a year.

Services Today For Wade Cotton

Funeral services for Wade A. Cotton, 51, local service station operator for many years, will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Memorial Methodist church here with the Rev. Ralph Cain, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Cotton died unexpectedly early Friday at his residence at 206 Gilbert Street. His death was discovered early Friday morning when he failed to respond to an alarm clock he had set the previous night.

A native of Jena, Cotton came to Monroe as a young man and had since been in business here. He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Zella Hixson; a son Wade Cotton Jr., who is a senior in Tulane University; two daughters, Jo Ann, who is a freshman in Louisiana State University, and Kay, who is in the junior class at Neville High School; two sisters, Mrs. F. T. Peters, Monroe, and Mrs. P. A. Poag, Jr., New Orleans; and a brother, Earl Cotton, also operating a service station in Monroe.

sent a thank you letter but stated that she must return the dime. But the dime was overlooked when the letter was mailed.

This caused the first lady's secretary to send on the dime the next day.

Carol is reported to have fared quite well, for a man in Findlay, Ohio, sent her a dime to replace the one she failed to get in the first letter and someone in Houston, Tex., sent her 20 cents for ice cream.

We will wager she will keep all this transaction in her memory book for later reference.

Little Freddie Monroe, 508 Hall street, is nine - year olds. He spends much time next door with Dr. E. K. Means fashioning miniature airplanes. But yesterday when Dr. Means had a caller, he breezed into the house and exclaimed: "Just think Dr. Means, I pulled all by myself a way back tooth!" Then he modestly explained that one time before when he pulled a tooth that someone repaid him by the donation of a shining 25-cent piece.

The guest took the hint before Doctor Means could reach into his pocket, and Freddie was rewarded with a quarter of a dollar.

Former Principal Jack Hayes and his wife, who was connected with the library at Ouachita parish high school for many years dropped in on Monroe the past week. Now they reside in Corydon, Ky., after both have retired from active educational service. Both are in the best of health and admit they enjoy life in Kentucky, with little of the cares of life to cause worries.

They drove to Monroe and have spent the week in a downtown hotel where they have been visited by many old time friends.

The progress of the Twin Cities in the matter of residence construction amazed both guests, as did the new West Monroe high school which they carefully inspected as guests of Supt. W. W. Ward. They particularly enjoyed dinner served them in the cafeteria.

St. Paul's Methodist church presents a wonderful degree of progress for a young church. Directed by Dr. Ben Oliphant, a group of active and eager church leaders, it is constantly going ahead. On Thursday a contract was awarded for over $70,000 for the erection of a large and elaborate youth building.

In this connection nothing succeeds like success, and this is Not often is it possible for Monroians to have the benefit of hearing a Metropolitan Opera star but through the coming to Monroe of the convention of the Louisiana Music Teachers, Josephine Antoine is made available here.

At the outset of her career, she won the Atwater Kent $1500 award and has sung "The Messiah" as oratorio singer with the New York Oratorio Society in Carnegie Hall. Also she has had leading roles with the Philadelphia, Chicago and San Francisco opera companies and for 12 years was leading soprano with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope will accompany Miss Antoine. Only a nominal admission will be charged at the door, states Dr. Harry Lemert, head of the Fine Arts department at Northeast State.

The performance will be at 8:30 p. m. in the Brown auditorium at the college, on Friday.

With several mornings this week when a slight frost was found coating the grounds hereabouts, the danger and distress of hay fever is ended and pollen in the atmosphere which was being counted and the men would be lessened. It appears that one building a house takes almost any number that has appeal to him.

College avenue is one case. The numbers are badly confused. So are numbers on McGuire, where they fail to compare favorably block by block with those on Filhiol avenue.

At Christmas time there are always a number of extra mailmen making house - to - house deliveries and they get all confused with the lack of system in numbering and the mail gets to the wrong house and trouble results.

Seems like the Chamber of Commerce might take the matter up with the City of Monroe in an effort to correct many mistakes in numbering.

Believe it or not but the postoffices of the nation are to make a refund. They are announcing to boxholders that advance deposits on postoffice lock boxes are to be discontinued. Payment made Oct. 1 last will be refunded. Also as many as two keys will be furnished by the postoffice without charge.

Annual Business Education Day Is Scheduled Here

While their students have a holiday, 496 teachers in the white schools of Ouachita parish and the Twin Cities will be guests of 38 local business firms Friday, November 4, when the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the third annual Business Education Day, according to James Williams, executive manager of the Chamber.

To begin the day's activities, the teachers and about 50 local business men will attend a brief program at Neville High school at 9:30 a. m. Following the Neville meeting, the teachers will divide into five groups and be transported by school buses and passenger cars to the various cooperating businesses, where they will be shown the functions of individual plants.

Following their tours of the firms, the teachers will be served lunch on the grounds of the American Legion Home on Forsythe avenue. In case of inclement weather, lunch will be served in the Neville High school cafeteria.

Purpose of Business Education Day is to give school teachers an opportunity to view, on the spot, private enterprise at work. It is felt that their knowledge of business realities can be put to practical use by the teachers when they return to their classrooms.

One of the biggest projects (in numbers) of the Twin Cities Chamber of Commerce this year, Business Education Day is expected to attract every white teacher in the school systems. In the past, teachers have had about 99 per cent participation.

The day's activities have been planned and coordinated by the Chamber's Education Committee, headed by H. H. Hudson.

24. ACE fits the clue. A man must be pretty sharp—a trickster—to cut an ACE "at will". ACE would not fit the precise wording of the clue.

25. CHIME is best. You just won't discover the perfect CRIME: if it were discovered it would not be perfect. There is no place boasting a perfect CLIME. You might however discover a perfect CHIME although "you're not likely to".

28. CARE of greater or less degree is of course normally taken on all the streets of a city. Many streets do not permit CARS.

CLUES DOWN:

4. TIP is best. You would always welcome a good TIP—a useful bit of information. You would not necessarily welcome a good TIE. It might be a very good and expensive one and yet be most unsuitable in color.

6. DOG is best. The clue says "particularly bad". He might feel bad on killing a DOE, but such things do happen to the best of hunters. There is no excuse however for killing a DOG and he would feel "particularly bad."

7. Certainly it would be nice to be able to spend a whole DAY in nothing but sheer enjoyment. As for PAY no sensible man would think it nice, as the clue says, to spend every cent of his entire PAY for the sole purpose of sheer enjoyment.

14. GET is best. You certainly should not GET into a completely strange horse. You might however wisely BET on one on which you had been given a good tip even though you yourself know little about it.

15. POT fits the clue. The dictionary defines to "POT" as to "shoot". You might PET or PAT a big police dog with no bad results—certainly no fatal results. To POT him—to shoot him—might easily be fatal for him.

18. EJECT is best since the clue mentions a "vigorous argument". To EJECT or EXPEL suggests some type of action. EJECT is usually a peaceful operation.

21. A RAM is a mechanical device which raises the water. A DAM controls the water but does not necessarily raise it.

SOUTHERN NAME

HOLLYWOOD —UP— A singer-vodler who never has been to the Carolinas had court permission Friday to change her name legally to Carolina Cotton.

Miss Cotton, 25, told Superior Judge Arnold Praeger Thursday she had been using the name for 10 years. She was born Helen Hagsrom Braunsdorf on a farm, three miles from Cash, Ark., Miss Cotton said.

If one is patient the old traffic bridge will be really placed back in use some time not too many moons distant. It will likely be thrown open some time in November but not before then for Ellis Ross, assistant state highway engineer declares, and he is in charge in this area. Already Coleman avenue is widened in the first block west of the bridge and will be in readiness for the opening of the span.

Much money has been expended by the state in making repairs and Mr. Ross assures it will be good for another half century when back into use.

Details Of Fire, Water Bond Issue For W. M. Given

The engineering and financial aspects of a proposed fire protection and water improvements bond issue for West Monroe residents were explained to the West Monroe Lions Club and their Civic Club guests Thursday night. The audience, numbering about 100, was receptive to the explanations and generally expressed favor for the $1,370,000 bond issue.

An engineering representative of Fromhurst Engineers gave details of the proposed program and explained the necessity that West Monroe obtain improvements in its fire protection. He said the improvements as outlined would satisfy the requirements of the Louisiana Rating and Fire Prevention Bureau and lower insurance rates for property owners, aside from being of practical use.

The engineer outlined plans for improvements in fire protection, including the addition of three new fire trucks, the laying of larger piping to replace the small ones now in use in certain parts of the city and the replacing of hydrants, having four inch openings with five inch hydrants. He added that plans were for no home in the thickly populated sections to be more than 300 feet from a fire hydrant.

For water improvements, he said, is planned two one-million gallon surface storage tank and one-million gallon elevated storage tank, with more and better pumping facilities.

All these improvements, would benefit all West Monroe residents, he said.

Bonding Attorneys presented details for financing the improvement program. He told these in attendance that the millage to cover the proposed bond issue would amount to only 3.4 mills, which is $3.40 per $1,000 assessment.

The bonding firm representative said that in 1954 the millage paid on West Monroe indebtedness was 18.5 mills. The first year of payment on the new bonds by property owners would be 1957 and the millage then would return to the 18.5 mills. The city council could begin gradually lowering this after three to five years, it was explained.

An assessment increase in West Monroe property value from 1954 to 1955 was $1,624,560, according to Leon Wood, city clerk. This was due largely, he said, to the new areas admitted into the city limits, but added that other areas have been entered since whose assessments are not included in this increase figure.

Fire Department Has Busy Round Of Activity Here

Lightning and other fire dangers combined yesterday to give the Monroe fire department an unusually busy day of rushing to local buildings.

At about 10:40 a.m. lightning knocked out a fuse box at the home of Willie Mae Staten, 916 Marks street, but there was no damage to the house.

A fire that broke out in the home of Julian Adams, 3011 Barlow street, at about 6:45 a.m. did extensive damage before being brought under control.

The Selman Field Officers Club building, damaged in a fire about a year ago, caught fire again at about 5:30 p.m. yesterday, sending firemen rushing to the scene.

The department answered a call to 2909½ Jackson Street at 6:30 p.m. when a short in electrical wiring caused uneasiness for a time but no damage.

SETS 'SAFE DRIVING DAY'

AUSTIN, Oct. 28—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers Friday designated Dec. 1 as "Safe Driving Day" in Texas. He pointed out that 2,431 Texans died last year in traffic accidents and that 1,778 have been killed through September of this year.

and pieces of tin roofs covered the ground. Two unoccupied houses were damaged and one Negro cabin.

It was estimated that the complete path of the tornado was about five miles.

A number of Sibley residents said there was no loud noise and that it was all over in a matter of seconds. "It was very dark before it struck and rained awfully hard," Mrs. Ray, whose home was damaged considerably, said. "I didn't have time to get scared."

She said that the tornado dipped before it struck her home.

In 1947 nearly the entire community of Sibley was demolished by a tornado and one man, Howard Dugdale, was killed.

R. D. Toach said that in 1944 a tornado struck on his farm, demolishing a barn and killing a large number of cattle.

A number of old time Sibley residents said that tornadoes had "always hit around here."

Sibley is the home of the state Presbyterian camp known as Camp Alabama. None of the buildings at the camp were damaged.

Tornado warnings were issued early Friday for eastern Arkansas, northeast Louisiana and southeast Missouri. The bureau warned that scattered severe thunderstorms with several tornadoes were likely from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. from Monroe to a point 40 miles southeast of Farmington, Mo. and 50 miles either side of that line.

Mississippi Man Held In Death Of Mother-In-Law

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 28 (AP)—Jimmie D. Wiggs, 24, Jackson, was charged today with being an accessory to murder in the death of his uncle's mother-in-law, police said.

Police said they turned Wiggs over to Quitman County Sheriff John Kimbro who jailed him at Marks.

Kimbro said he charged Glen D. Mayhan, 35, former Lambert night marshal, with murder in the shotgun death of Mrs. S. J. Bailey Sr. in her home near Lambert Tuesday.

The sheriff said preliminary investigation indicated Mayhan had threatened the Baileys because of a dispute over his children. He and his wife are separated.

Kimbro said Mayhan asked Wiggs to drive him to the Bailey home, telling him they were going hunting.

When they arrived, Mayhan ran to the house and shot Mrs. Bailey. He threatened to shoot Mrs. Bailey's daughter-in-law, Mrs. S. J. Bailey Jr., but she fled.

Wiggs said he ran and Mayhan sped a way in the automobile. Later, he called the sheriff and surrendered.

Firefighter To Blast Oil Well Fire With Nitro

KAPLAN, La., Oct. 28 (AP)—Fire-fighting expert Myron Kinley will set off a nitroglycerine charge in a blazing oil well tomorrow or Sunday in another attempt to blast out a fire which has raged for three days.

Kinley said the time of the explosion depends on when he and his crew finish clearing away the oil rig equipment.

The fire broke out early Wednesday, a few minutes after the well blew out. It was scheduled for completion Wednesday afternoon.

The blaze, spewing flames 50 feet skyward, had consumed 30 million cubic feet of gas by late today, an official of one of the companies which own the well estimated.

Workers employed a specially equipped bulldozer to drag equipment away from the flames.

A huge tank of butane gas within 30 feet of the flaming well still had not exploded late today. It was first thought fire-fighting operations would have to wait for the tank to ignite, but Kinley said he might move the tank.

Delta Earnings For Quarter At 86 Cents A Share

ATLANTA, Oct. 28 (AP)—Delta Airlines, Inc., today reported a net income after taxes of $636,000 for the quarter ended Sept. 30.

C. E. Woolman, president and general manager said this income was equivalent to 86 cents a share on 738,038 shares of common stock outstanding. The quarter's income amounted to 4.33 per cent of gross revenues.

Last week Delta's board of directors voted a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share. The third such dividend declared in 1955, it will be paid Dec. 5 to stockholders of record Nov. 16.

W. M. Police Official Reported Recovering

James R. Cullipher, Jr., assistant police chief in West Monroe, said Friday that he was released from the hospital on Thursday and was recovering from what was first thought to be a heart attack early Wednesday.

He said that after X-Rays and a cardiogram were made Thursday morning in the hospital, physicians decided he did not have a heart ailment. His collapse Wednesday was probably caused by pressure built up by a stomach disorder.

Cullipher said he was feeling fine and thought he might go back to work Monday.

Vandals Ransack Elementary School

An unknown number of fountain pens were taken by burglars Thursday night at Ransom Elementary school in West Monroe. Chief of Police Jeff Caldwell said Friday.

Evidence of vandalism was everywhere, with seven class rooms entered and 12 windows broken with rocks, Chief Caldwell said. The vandals strewn contents of teachers' desks over the rooms and obscene language was found written on one desk, the Chief explained. Also, a magnetic tape recorder was reported broken by the burglars.

No estimate of damages has been made, but they were thought to be "heavy."

Band Leader Fined For Drunk Driving

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28 (AP)—Bandleader Freddy Martin, 47, was convicted by a judge today of misdemeanor drunk driving.

Martin pleaded innocent but submitted his defense on the report of officers who arrested him a week ago.

Municipal Judge Ben Koenig fined him $250 and ordered him to pay $13 into the traffic educational benefit fund.

Used Bank's Money Bewildered Cab Driver Describes Millionaire Fare

HONOLULU, Oct. 28 (AP)—A bewildered New York City cabbie told yesterday of a "millionaire fare" who fed him three steaks a day, bought him clothes and, in nearly a week's spending orgy, took him to Hawaii.

The "millionaire fare" happened to be Charles Martel Nost, 21, New York bank clerk whose accounts turned up $37,000 short and who was arrested here by the FBI Wednesday night as he danced at a swank hotel.

This was a rude shock to Tony C. Pagano, 40, New York City. He had traveled with Nost in the grand manner to Southern California and the gaming halls of Las Vegas, Nev., then on by plane to Honolulu.

"I never knew his real name," Pagano told newsmen before his plane took off for Los Angeles. "I called him Junior. That's his name at the track."

Sadly Pagano turned over $350 to the FBI which his free-spending fare had given him. There still was $285 of his own money, enough to get a plane to Los Angeles. There he hopes to borrow enough from relatives to get him back to New York.

Pagano said Nost lost perhaps $13,000 last week at a Yonkers race track. Pagano had been taking him there for a couple of months.

Nost then showed him a brief case in which he said was more than $30,000. And how about a trip on Nost? Pagano snapped up the offer. He'd only been out of the city twice in his life.

"This was really living," Pagano said. "We hit L.A. then we hit Las Vegas. Then we went back to L.A., hired a car and drove to Las Vegas again."

"He was shooting dice at $200 a throw. The second day he got lucky and won $2,000."

Then back to Los Angeles. While waiting for a plane to Hawaii Nost lost about $7,000 at the Hollywood Park race track, Pagano said.

"Three steaks a day, we ate," he went on. "He always wanted to go to the most expensive joints. He tipped $2 and $5 for drinks alone. I'll bet even the Rockefellers don't do that."

Nost bought the cabbie clothes and gave him spending money, told Pagano to think nothing of it because he had inherited oil wells and a lot of stocks.

Only thing Pagano noticed out of the ordinary was that his friend was nervous.

"I was afraid the kid was going to crack up. He finally did break down in front of the FBI men," Pagano flew away but Nost remained behind, held under $30,000.

Middleton Cites High Yearly Loss Of Good Students

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Troy Middleton of Louisiana State University said today the annual loss of 200,000 potential scholars is "a national tragedy."

Up to 200,000 high school graduates in the upper quarter of their class do not go to college for economic reasons, he said.

Middleton told LSU's annual October conference for educators, "I would like to suggest that this is one of the problems that must be solved soon. Such waste is fundamentally unsound and we simply can't afford it."

"And if this proposition is accepted, then it follows that the people who are responsible for admitting students to college have no right to assume that all high school graduates are qualified to do college work."

He predicted Louisiana high school graduates in the future would have to go through a college screening procedure.

John Haskell, vice president of the New York Stock Exchange, said "until recently, we Americans have been out of touch with schools."

"Now business, the government and the general public are waking up to the importance of education to the progress of the community, state and nation."

Haskell suggested school administrators convince the public that "additional costs for school programs are an investment for themselves and for the community."

Mrs. Ledbetter Is Honored At Morning Coffee Party

Autumn arrangements of chrysanthemums and dried foliage decorated the lounge at Bayou DeSiard Country Club Wednesday when Mrs. Faheam Cannon entertained at a morning coffee honoring Mrs. Roy H. Ledbetter who recently moved to Monroe from New Orleans.

Pottery coffee pots in burnt orange and green were placed on the table, overlaid in chartreuse and centered with an artistic arrangement of dried berries, leaves and bronze chrysanthemums. Basket trays were also attractively arranged on the table.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Cannon and the honoree, Mrs. Ledbetter.

Alternating at the coffee services were Mrs. Vincent Sampson, Mrs. Armand McHenry, Jr., Mrs. Dan Moore, Jr., and Mrs. Alfred Brin.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. F. E. McCarty.

More than forty-five guests called to meet Mrs. Ledbetter between 10:30 and 12 o'clock.

Clayton, secretary; Mrs. Kermit Loomis, council members; Mrs. J. G. Sullivan, alternate and Miss Olga Davis, reporter.

The Fairview Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Adrian Smith, and the Wildsville club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Clyde McIntyre.

Installation Ceremonies Are Held At Y

On Wednesday morning, October 26, 1955, at the Y. W. C. A. the installation ceremony for the 1955-56 officers of the Y's was held with Miss Bess Sharp, executive director, in charge. The symbols, triangles and candles were used to carry out the various ideals of the club as a part of the Y. W. C. A. The following officers were installed by the outgoing president, Mrs. Hewitt Johnson: president; Mrs. E. J. Blake; 1st vice-president, Mrs. L. F. Bewick; 2nd vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Walker; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Thomas Pitt; secretary, Mrs. R. R. Spiegelhalter and secretary, Mrs. William M. Hochstetler.

After the installation there were short talks by the outgoing and incoming presidents.

Mrs. Frank P. Smith told of the accomplishments of the Y's during the past year under the leadership of Mrs. Johnson and presented her with a gift from the club. Mrs. Johnson then thanked the officers and chairmen, who served with her, for their work during the year.

The hostesses, Mrs. Hewitt Johnson and Mrs. Thomas Gibbs, served refreshments to the following members, with Mrs. E. J. Blake at the coffee service. Mrs. W. E. McGough, Mrs. Herman Reece, Mrs. A. D. Hanks, Mrs. J. R. Hood, Mrs. Marion Perkins, Mrs. Paul H. Johnson, Jr., Mrs. Malcolm J. Keith, Mrs. Frank P. Smith, Mrs. William M. Hochstetler, Mrs. R. R. Spiegelhalter, Mrs. L. F. Bewick, Mrs. J. H. Walker, Mrs. V. M. Schoonover, Mrs. H. W. Kight, Mrs. Joe Gorman and Miss Bess Sharp, Mrs. Mossy Smith was a guest of the club. The next meeting of the Y's will be held on the morning of November 9 and Dr. Ben Oliphant will talk. Visitors are welcome.

Eighth Grade Fun Club Has Barn Dance

The Eighth Grade Fun Club held its October party in the form of a barn dance on Friday night.

Halloween colors, decorated the exhibition building at the fair grounds. Corn stalks and pumpkins were also placed at points of interest in the building.

Jack Hollingsworth and his band furnished music for the round and square dancing. Charlie Webber called and directed the sets for square dancing.

The refreshment table was centered with a traditional Halloween witch including a broom and stew pot.

During intermission, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Foster, Mrs. Dick Cotton, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Dorothy Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. John Loftin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keith and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McKethen.

After intermission the band entertained with a floor show. Among the performers were several members of the Shreveport Jamboree.

Mrs. Sam Donald was in charge of the party and chaperons who assisted her were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bragg and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bryan.

Joyce Garland Presides At Start F. H. A.

The Start F. H. A. held its monthly meeting last Friday with Joyce Garland, presiding. The opening ritual was read by the secretary, Greta Jo Senn. Membership cards were issued to new members and renewals to the old members.

Dolores Nolan, treasurer, read to the group, the proposed business program and budget plan for the year, as prepared by the executive council. The propositions were discussed and accepted by the group.

Chairmen of committees named were: Syble Allen, publicity chairman; Faye Trisler, refreshments; Betty Whitten, clean up; Dolores Nolan, budget; Greta Jo Senn, degrees; Eston Usrey, program; Barbara Epps, decorating; Dixie Bennett, typing; Linda Hardwick, library.

The club also selected two FHA beaux — Joe Swenson and W. H. Bishop, Jr. Two voting delegates, Lajuana Flint and Gloria Malone. Club mothers will be Mrs. Lannie Sullivan and Mrs. I. H. Garland. Club fathers, I. H. Garland and J. E. Flint.

The meeting adjourned after a social hour.

Frederick Fudickar Has Halloween Birthday Party

Fredrick Fudickar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fudickar, Jr., celebrated his fourth birthday with a Halloween party at Bayou DeSiard Country Club Thursday afternoon.

Witches, jack-o-lanterns, balloons and festive hallowe'en noise-makers added merriment to the celebration.

Highlighting the occasion was a visit by Professor LeMott who told of his experiences with the Indians and entertained the guests with a variety of magic tricks. Centering the U-shaped table which was also decorated in a hallowe'en theme was a large pumpkin birthday cake.

Rainbow Girls

The Rainbow Girls of the O. E. S. of Oak Grove met in the Masonic Hall for their regular meeting. The birthdays of eight of the members, which had occurred in the past four months, were celebrated with the mother advisor, Mrs. Ruth Head.

The hall was decorated in fall flowers carrying out a hallowe'en theme. Mrs. Head presented Miss Lillian Hollingsworth, Miss Calla Rose Prime, Miss Jo Ann Bennett, Miss Annette Doyle, Miss Virginia Kirkland, Miss Polly Lemons, Miss Joy Holley and Miss Mary Vining with gifts from the Eastern Star chapter.

The Woodlawn HDC held its regular meeting with Mrs. Gerald Moorehead with Mrs. B. L. Lovelady co-hostess. Mrs. E. M. Frith called the meeting to order with the group repeating the Lord's Prayer. Songs were led by Mrs. Keith Cobb. Mrs. O. E. Smith led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

It was announced that Woodlawn had won two blue ribbons at the fair. The president appointed a nominating committee composed of Mrs. C. H. Caples, Mrs. I. D. Chatham and Mrs. J. E. Murphy. Mrs. Eddie Owens and Mrs. Bobbie Arrant were welcomed as new members.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. D. L. Catham. A report from the following leaders was given. Nutrition, Mrs. G. E. Rutledge; Family Life, Mrs. H. H. Roberts; Safety, Mrs. J. E. Rutledge; Mrs. Keith Cobb gave a demonstration of ways and means of buying furniture.

Mrs. Thomas Burnett, Mrs. Kennis Hines, Mrs. Chatham and Mrs. Frith won the prizes during the social hour.

Attending were Mrs. G. E. Rutledge, Mrs. Truman Wright, Mrs. J. E. Rutledge, Mrs. D. L. Catham, Mrs. W. C. Cockrell, Mrs. Kirby Wade, Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Mrs. E. M. Frith, Mrs. R. J. Browning, Mrs. Ruby Moorehead, Mrs. I. D. Chatham, Mrs. C. H. Caples, Mrs. Thomas Burnett, and the two hostesses.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Ardis Hatten, Mrs. Dale Hatten, Mrs. J. G. Martin, Mrs. Kennis Hines, and Mrs. W. H. Berry Sr.

The club will meet Nov. 11 at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Thomas Burnett with Mrs. W. O. Johnson, co-hostess.

rooms, adding to the pleasure of the occasion.

The bride — elect was especially attractive in a becoming red silk dinner dress with a corsage of white dahlias. Her mother, Mrs. J. B. Massey wore beige faille and her corsage was pink and white dahlias.

The serving table, where Mrs. J. T. Fulton and Miss Everett alternated, at the silver coffee service, was centered with a bowl of pink and white dahlias flanked by crystal candelabra holding pink tapers.

Approximately a hundred friends were included in the guest list.

Lillian Russell Told Her 1914 Readers To 'Tell The Truth'

Even today the name Lillian Russell is a glamorous one to all but the very young. I myself am too young to have seen her but I have heard about that great beauty and actress, as I am sure many of you have.

I think it is interesting to read what some of the famous beauties of the past had to say. Not too long ago I printed an article by Anna Held. The following article by Lillian Russell, was written in 1914.

"I want to know the truth. You've heard women say that; but they don't really want to know the truth.

"After all, what is truth? No two persons see the same thing exactly alike. As there is no worldwide standard of beauty, so is there no universal acceptance as truth of thousands of theories advanced by thinkers and thoughtless.

"The human mind seems to have its own limitations so far as seeking the truth is concerned. There are points beyond which it does not want to go—truths that it prefers should not be demonstrated. So women, in not being too eager for truth, are in line with the rest of humanity.

"There are slovenly women to whom the truth about themselves would be a godsend. There are women who have no taste or judgment in selecting their clothes who ought to know the truth. There are women with pasty complexions who should be taking proper exercise and simple remedies, but who continue to gloss over their defect with paint and powder when somebody should tell them the truth. And there are women who are just starting to tread the primrose path who could be drawn back to safety if the truth were not an impertinence.

"The woman who resents the truth today may in time come to be the woman who sadly says, 'If I had only known.' Society, as at present organized, is a powerful obstacle to truth telling. In society you must be 'tactful.' That is another way of saying 'avoid the truth.' Until women overcome their dread of hearing the truth it will not be told.

"Remember, 'tis better to know than to dread."

Lillian really 'told' her readers, didn't she? I don't know that I entirely agree. Heaven save us from a so called frank individual! A little tact oils the wheels of daily living and it seems best to give our friends advice only when they ask for it.

Report Victim Of Well Accident Much Improved

BEAUMONT, Tex., Oct. 28 (AP)—Trapped in a 45-foot well with a sledge hammer handle piercing his abdomen, Roy Simmons sawed off the handle and was lifted to safety.

That occurred Wednesday. Today Simmons, a 32-year-old bank cashier at near Newton, Tex., was in good condition at Baptist Hospital here.

Simmons was helping two workmen who were drilling a well on his farm near Newton. A tile piece became wedged crosswise in the well. The workmen were afraid to go down into the well to dislodge it and Simmons went down, taking the sledge hammer to force the tile into place. Concrete walls of the well collapsed, forcing the sledge handle into his abdomen and pinning him.

Simmons, the top of his body free, tied pieces of the broken concrete to a rope lowered to him. After several such lifts space enough was cleared for him to work on the handle with a saw lowered to him. The balance of the handle was removed from his abdomen after he was brought to the hospital here.

"He's conscious and in good spirits," a hospital attendant said today.

Ike Continues Work On Legislative Plans; Keeps Up With Foreign Affairs

DENVER, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower worked on legislative plans today and studied reports on the Geneva conference and Israeli-Egyptian fighting. And doctors checked for any enlargement of his heart.

Approaching tonight the end of five weeks of hospitalization from a heart attack, Eisenhower was allowed today to walk, sit up and work as he pleased in his hospital room.

For the first time, he left his convalescence headquarters on the eighth floor of Fitzsimons Army Hospital. By wheelchair and elevator, he was taken to the third floor for X-ray and fluoroscopic examinations to determine whether his heart has increased in size as a result of a Sept. 24 seizure and subsequent healing.

Results of the examinations were not announced immediately.

In advance of the X-ray and the chief executive's doctors reported in their morning medical bulletins Eisenhower had a good night's sleep of 7½ hours, felt "refreshed and in a good mood," and was making satisfactory progress without complications.

Pulse and blood pressure continued to be normal, they said, and the cardiogram, which reveals how his heart is mending, was stable.

The chief executive spent about an hour this morning on a rough draft of the State of the Union message that goes to Congress in January and dictating to his personal secretary, Mrs. Ann Whitman. The rough draft of the message, which will set forth the administration's 1956 legislative program, was laid before him yesterday by White House aides.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower is receiving one or more reports daily from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

Hagerty said Dulles is sending in "full reports" and "remaining in very close touch with the President."

In addition, he said, Eisenhower has been informed of the outbreak of fighting last night between Israeli and Egyptian troops in the troubled Middle East.

The President also is being permitted now to read Eastern and local newspapers every day. Hagerty said this has been done since Wednesday.

There were no official conferences scheduled for the chief executive today.

Phone Workers Reach Agreement On New Contract

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Oct. 28—UP—An agreement giving employees a two to five cents an hour wage increase was reached Thursday night by the General Telephone Co. of the Southwest and the Communications Workers of America (CIO).

The agreement, announced Friday, is effective Oct. 30, and applies to all employees paid on an hourly basis throughout the five-state area served by the company. Wage increases will amount to about $175,000 annually, a company official said.

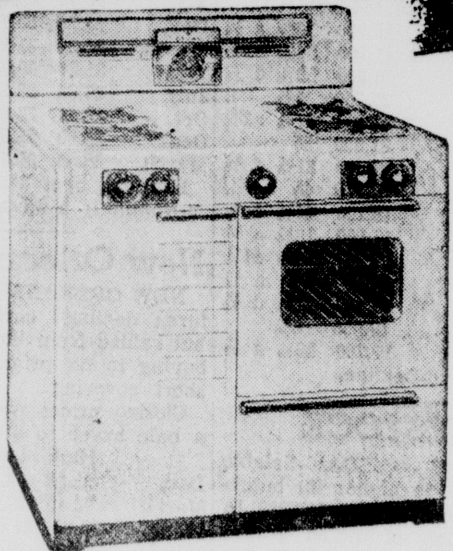

The agreement called for two or three cents an hour increase to employees making less than $1 an hour; a four-cent increase to employees who make more than $1 per hour but less than the maximum wage under the contract, and a five-cent increase to those now receiving the maximum wage.

Strobel's Affairs Being Probed By Dept. Of Justice

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today the FBI is taking part in an investigation of Peter A. Strobel's relations with a New York engineering firm while serving as the government's chief real estate manager.

Strobel was recalled before a House Judiciary subcommittee to answer some more questions about the 90 per cent interest he retained in Strobel & Salzman, engineering consultants, after becoming commissioner of public buildings service July 1, 1954.

Celler, chairman of the subcommittee, asked him whether he knew his case had been referred to the FBI by the Justice Department on Oct. 4.

"That's news to me," the $14,800-a-year commissioner said.

Celler did not give any details about the FBI inquiry.

In a session with the House group on Wednesday, Strobel denied that he used his influential government position to further the interests of the New York firm, which he said paid him an income of about $30,000 last year.

Celler conceded on Wednesday that "there may not have been any violation of the conflict of interest statute" in Strobel's activities. But he added there was "a question of delicacy" as to whether Strobel ought to have disqualifying himself from recommending a client of his firm, Serge P. Petroff, for a government remodeling job in New York.

Today Celler said there may have been an instance in which more than a question of delicacy was involved.

He referred to Strobel's testimony that, while commissioner, he went to the Corps of Army Engineers seeking to collect $7,500 claimed by Strobel & Salzman for extra work done on an old contract.

This may "conceivably involve a violation of the criminal code" which prohibits employees from prosecuting any claims against the government, Celler said. On the other hand, he added, Strobel "may have acted in the utmost good faith." Strobel testified he collected $3,000 on the claim.

Rail Engineers Win Wage Hikes For 48,000 Men

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—UP—The nation's railroads and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers reached an agreement Friday granting a general wage increase to 48,000 road and yard engineers.

Negotiators said the agreement provided a 5 per cent hike in the average basic daily wage rates of engineers.

They also received an additional

2 per cent increase "as an adjustment of differential inequities between locomotive engineers and employees in other classes of railroad service."

The increases are retroactive to Oct. 1.

Negotiators said part of the increase was given to the engineers in lieu of a health and welfare plan.

The oldest newspaper in America today is the Newport, Rhode Island Mercury, which was founded in 1758 by young James Franklin with the aid of his Uncle Benjamin.

Annual Concert Season At Tech To Open Monday

RUSTON, Oct. 28—(Special)—Basil Rathbone and Helen Gahan Douglas, collaborating in dramatizations selected from the works of noted short story writers, will open Louisiana Tech's concert season here Monday.

An afternoon performance at 2:15 o'clock will be presented for the Tech students. A program at 8 p. m. will be given for the general public.

The Rathbone-Douglas show, titled "One Plus One," will feature stories of such authors as DeMau-passant, Katherine Anne Porter, Chekov, O. Henry, George Sand and G. G. Wells.

Rathbone served his apprenticeship in repertory companies in England and came to the United States in 1922 to play in "The Czarina." Subsequently, he scored a long list of credits in motion pictures and in television and radio.

Mrs. Douglas, wife of actor Melvyn Douglas, served three terms in congress as representative of the 14th district of California. Her versatility has identified her with many fields of public life, including the stage, screen, radio and the concert stage, as well as politics. She was educated at the Berkely School for Girls in Brooklyn, the Capen School for Girls in Northampton, Mass., and at Barnard College in New York.

Man Convicted In Dope Case Gets 12-Year Sentence

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 28 (AP)—Judge A. Wilmont Dalferes today sentenced Robert J. Elias, convicted of selling marijuana cigarettes, to 12 years in the state penitentiary.

The 24-year-old Elias of Lafayette was charged with selling 19 marijuana cigarettes to state trooper I. H. Ottwell March 4.

He will be tried Monday on a charge of possession. Elias also faces another charge of selling marijuana.

John Churchill Denies Noises In Cell Were Howls

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—John Spencer Churchill explained in court today that noises echoing from his cell weren't meant to sound like howls of a dog. He said they were the dirge from the second act of Beethoven's "Fidelio."

The 50-year-old artist is a nephew of Sir Winston Churchill and a brother-in-law of Prime Minister Eden.

He and his wife, Kitty, were appearing for the fourth time in Bow Street court on charges of being drunk and disorderly. They pleaded innocent and the case was continued to Nov. 17. Each was released in 10 pounds—$28—bail.

Cross-examined by Prosecutor R. E. Seaton on the noise in his cell, Churchill replied:

"I regret I did lapse into this dirge (from 'Fidelio'). It struck me as a fantastic situation. I foresee perhaps the whole night in solitary confinement. How else was I to occupy my time?"

Q. There were no dog noises?

A. No.

Q. Perhaps your voice is not very good and the singing sounded like a dog noise? A. Perhaps.

Replying to Seaton, Mrs. Churchill agreed she mowed like a cat but said she did it to reassure her husband.

"It is a private way we have of speaking to each other," she said. Q. And your husband's response—does he bark? A. No.

Mrs. Churchill, wearing a black dress and a half-length fur coat, told the court she telephoned No. 10 Downing Street—Prime Minister Eden's official residence—after the arrest merely to help identification. Churchill is the brother of Eden's wife, Clarissa.

The first continuously published American newspaper was the Boston News-Letter, founded by John Campbell, continued for 72 years.

The students were driven from the station but regathered in front of the city hall. They dispersed and returned to Texas after police held up a tear gas bomb. The bomb was not used.

John Traylor of Mount Pleasant, Tex., a first string tackle on the college football squad, had a small gash on his forehead and a bump on his head. He claimed he had been struck by a policeman. The inter-state affray occurred after the students had staged a downtown parade and pep rally in preparation for their football game with Paris, Tex., Junior college tomorrow.

They had gone to the Arkansas side of this state-line city and parked their cars, some of them in the block where the police station is located. They paraded into Texas and when they returned to their cars, some of them had been tagged for illegal parking.

Chief of Police Max Packett of the Texarkana, Ark., department issued a statement deploring the action of the students and the incident.

Northeast Battles Livingston In 'Free' Grid Clash

Quarterback Club Sponsors Redskin Tilt Here Tonight

It's bargain night at Brown Field with the Quarterback Club of Northeast State College as host at a free football game which pits the Northeast State Indians against their old Alabama rivals, the Livingston State Tigers. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

It's the next-to-last home game of the season for Coach Devone Payne's Redskins, who close their home campaign in a Gulf States Conference affair with Louisiana College on November 12, and the Quarterback Club, doing its part to stimulate sagging hometown interest in Northeast football, has taken over the game and invited everybody desiring to attend as guests.

Seats are still reserved, however, and fans desiring to be sure of a seat must claim their free tickets at any of the dozen or more places passing them out.

Sam Rubin Jr., vice president of the Quarterbacks, listed the ticket sites as Gay's Clothing, Central Savings Bank and Trust Company, Ouachita National Bank, The Toggery, R. and A. Jewelers, McCain-Richards Motors, Ryan-Polk Chevrolet, Nichols Ford Motors of Rayville, Friendly Finance, Saul Adler Tire Company, Twin City Printing Company, Alexander's Custom Tailors, and KNOE.

Meanwhile, the outcome of the game is considered anybody's guess. Livingston, a victim of the Redskins to the tune of 44-28 last year and thirsty for revenge, has been having it just about as tough as the Northeast machine that is seeking its third win on the seventh time out.

The defeat of Livingston was Northeast's only triumph in ten games last year when the Tribe tied one with Louisiana College, and the rebuilding Redskins figure they have a good chance to come nearer a 500 percentage season this year if they can turn the trick on the Alabama invader again.

Nothing but Gulf conference opposition will remain for the Tribe after the Tigers depart with a trip to Natchitoches next week to take Northwestern, the Louisiana College game here the following Saturday, and the closer at Ruston with Louisiana Tech on November 19.

The Tribe had been counting on quarterback Danny Hoak to be ready to finish the campaign at his old job, but Danny, hurt early in the season, was reinjured last week and may see Wallace Hargan and Everett Reynolds handling his job tonight.

Otherwise, Coach Payne will have Aubrey Wade, Tommy Leos and Mack Powell rounding out his backfield behind a line of Joe Driskell and C. W. Statham, ends; "Red" Yocum and Ken O'Neal, tackles; C. J. Melancon and Jimmy Berry, guards; and Dalton Smith, center.

Gonsalves Given Fight; Low Blow Costly To Perez

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Lanky Johnny Gonsalves, fighting a stab and grab battle, won a split decision over young Lulu Perez tonight in a dull 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Perez was penalized the last round for a low blow by referee Rudy Goldstein. Perez weighed 133, Gonsalves 133½.

If Perez hadn't lost the 10th for sinking a low left hook into Gonsalves' body, he would have come out of the listless contest with a draw. Goldstein's ruling took away a round that would have been credited to Perez on the card of judge Artie Aidala. Instead of a 4-4-2 draw verdict, Aidala then wound up with a 5-3-2 score in favor of Gonsalves.

Referee Goldstein had it 6-2-2 for Gonsalves but judge Artie Schwartz voted for Perez 5-4-1. The AP card had Gonsalves on top 6-4 but it was one of those things which could have been tallied 0-10 without any real squawks.

After the fifth and sixth rounds, Goldstein went to Gonsalves' corner, telling him to step up the pace. The small crowd of about 20,000 booed and clapped hands in the early rounds but mostly objected to the official verdict.

Wave After Homecoming Upset Against Plainmen

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Tulane's revitalized Green Wave shoots for its third straight homecoming upset tomorrow against an Auburn team that has its sights trained on the Sugar Bowl.

A victory for Auburn could place the Plainmen a step nearer the Southeastern Conference title and strengthen their position in the race for the Sugar Bowl bid.

But Tulane, anchored by two of the conference's finest guards in Bryan Burnthorne and Tony Sardisco and a budding split-T mauler in sophomore Gene Newton, may prove a difficult task. Although they are rated a two-touchdown underdog, the expected homecoming crowd of about 30,000 may give the Greenies added incentive. The homecoming celebration

Brother-Sister Team Has Taken Charge Of Solons

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The brother-sister team of Calvin Griffith and Thelma Haynes assumed control of the Washington Senators today, vowing that the club will not be sold.

Griffith and Mrs. Haynes, wife of Washington pitching coach Joe Haynes, take over the leading roles in operation of the club under provisions made by Clark Griffith, baseball's "Old Fox," who died last night at the age of 83.

Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Haynes are Griffith's adopted children. Calvin, now executive vice president of the Senators, is on record as saying: "We'll never sell our baseball stock."

With the death of the elder Griffith, the clamor is expected to grow to shift the Senators' franchise to the poorest attendance in the major leagues last year. The Washington club finished last in the American League.

But Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Haynes were in no mood to sell out. Long before Griffith's death, a series of publicity devices had been worked out to boost season ticket sales and increase attendance.

Also, Calvin and Chuck Dressen, the Senators' manager, had been consulting with Griffith on prospective trades. The Senators have some pretty fair trade bait in the likes of outfielder Roy Sievers, third baseman Eddie Yost, second baseman Pete Runnels and pitchers Bob Porterfield and Mickey McDermott.

Any or all of these stars may go.

Rate Notre Dame 6-Point Favorite To Crumble Navy

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 28 (AP)—Undefeated Navy, the nation's No. 4 college football team, exchanges broadsides with its most formidable foe of the season, favored Notre Dame in a tense international contest tomorrow.

The forecast calls for scattered showers and cooler weather, but this Knute K. Rockne Memorial game is expected to jam a capacity 57,000 fans into Notre Dame Stadium.

Notre Dame's once-beaten Irish rate a 6-point favorite as they team against a team that is the pride of the east. Yet, the Irish are notched five pegs behind Navy the No. 9 spot in the national AP poll.

With Notre Dame's chances for a perfect season already marred by Michigan State (21-7), the pressure tomorrow will be entirely on the Irish, who own the nation's best defensive record and a superlative quarterback, gaunt George Welsh.

Even with the traditional finale with Army still ahead, this is a pivotal game in Navy's strike for the first undefeated Middle season since 1926 and perhaps the first unbeaten-untied year in Navy history.

Navy has had few shining hours in this 29-game series which claims to be the current longest unbroken intersectional rivalry in college football.

The Irish have defeated the Irish only four times, last triumph with a wartime—bolstered lineup, 32-13, in 1944. The one tie played was a 6-6 outcome in 1945.

Notre Dame's top-heavy bag of 23 victories include nine in a row since the 1945 deadlock with Navy's best showing coming last year in a 6-0 defeat in the mud at Baltimore.

Before losing to Michigan State, Notre Dame launched Terry Brennan's second Irish season with her victories over Southern Methodist (17-0), Indiana (19-0) and Miami of Florida (14-0).

Navy's Eddie Erdelatz, in his sixth middle season, has safely charted the Irishmen through five games in what must be regarded as a fairly easy course.

The Navy record to date:
Navy 7, William & Mary 0
Navy 26, South Carolina 0
Navy 21, Pittsburgh 0
Navy 34, Penn State 14
Navy 33, Pennsylvania 0
Navy's only foe of stature has been a good Pittsburgh team whose only other defeat in six starts was a 26-14 loss to powerful Oklahoma.

seems to fire the Greenies to unexpected efforts.

In 1953, Tulane tied a heavily favored Army team 0-0 and last year held powerful Alabama to a scoreless deadlock.

Burnthorne and Sardisco, both outstanding candidates for all-conference honors, may offer Auburn's stoutest opposition they've faced all season.

Auburn has rolled to four victories and one tie while the Greenies show three victories and the same number of losses. Tulane enters the game off its winning effort against Georgia last week in a 14-0 victory that earned coach Andy Pilney accolade as the conference's coach of the week.

Kickoff is set for 2 p.m. (CST).

Meanwhile, funeral arrangements were nearing completion for the elder Griffith. Services are to be held Monday at 10 a.m., CST, at the Hamilton Methodist Church, with burial at Ft. Lincoln Cemetery.

The body lay in state tonight at a funeral home. Friends and admirers of Griffith are also welcome to pay their respects throughout the day tomorrow and Sunday.

Messages of high praise for Griffith poured in all day long. Griffith was a wife to Mrs. Griffith from former President Harry S. Truman.

Sent from Kansas City, the telegram said: "You have the sincerest sympathy of Mrs. Truman and me. We were very fond of Mr. Griffith."

Dressen, now in Beverly Hills, Calif., said: "He was one of the finest and most sincere men ever connected with baseball. He always treated his players well. He was counting on being on the baseball scene next season."

Dressen added that "We had many plans for the Senators for next season" and that proposed trades had been discussed as well as the possibility of bringing up youngsters from the minor leagues.

Washington already has the largest collection of kid ball players in its history. Among them: Bonus youngsters Harmon Killebrew and Jerry Schoonmaker; pitchers Pedro Ramos, Ted Abernathy, Dean Stone and Camillo Pascual; shortstop Jose Valdivielso and catcher Seven Korchek.

Few, if any, of these are likely to be traded.

Several years ago, Griffith set up a voting trust for the 52 per cent of the club's stock owned by Griffith family members and Woolen E. Young, Washington businessman who was a close friend for many years.

Under that trust, Calvin and Mrs. Haynes have equal voices.

The largest single stockholder is H. Gabriel Murphy, insurance man and treasurer of the team. He owns 39 per cent and, under the terms of Griffith's estate, has a veto on any stock sale through 1960.

It is likely that Murphy will assume a bigger role in operations of the club now, but he can always be outvoted by the Griffith family. Calvin has been in baseball for many years. He managed the Senators' farm club at Charlotte, N.C., back in the 1930's and has been front man for the man he called "Unc" for the past half dozen years.

Mrs. Haynes also is thoroughly familiar with the operation of the club. And there are those who believe she'll have some ideas of her own—and be willing to fight for them.

Thus, splits could arise between the brother and sister. Such splits were possible before, but Griffith always was there as the final arbiter. The operation now could be somewhat less smooth.

Dragon, Bulldog Elevens Settle For Even Break

MANGHAM, La., Oct. 28 (Special)—The Mangham High Dragons and the Wisner Bulldogs, old Class B rivals but campaigning in different districts, battled to a scoreless tie here tonight with the Dragons' big job in preserving the deadlock resting on controlling Roy Lee Shiver.

Shiver, ace of Wisner backs, was the rival ball carrier almost throughout the game, but his driving runs were in vain against the Mangham defenses.

But Shiver still fired his club to the most first downs, bagging ten first downs, seven in the first half, against a total of six for Mangham. The Dragons got three firsts in each half.

Guard Tom Willoughby, tackles Cary Elter and Edgar Johns, and backs Robert Martin and J. L. Hendrix were outstanding for Mangham. End Don Chapman, and backs Ralph Rayburn and Morgan shared the Wisner glory with Shiver.

Walker Pulls Down As Pirate Candidate

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 28 (AP)—Fred (Dixie) Walker today said he submitted and then withdrew himself as a candidate for manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Kindly remove my name from your list of candidates as I have decided to remain in Rochester," he telegraphed Pittsburgh General Manager Joe L. Brown.

Walker said he applied for the job with the Pirates at the suggestion of a Pittsburgh sports writer, "But after thinking it over a couple of days I believe my best bet is to stay at Rochester."

Walker was a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals last season until the Cards called up his younger brother Harry Walker from Rochester to replace Eddie Stanky as manager. Fred then replaced Harry with the International League club.

Rayville Springs 27 To 21 Defeat On Jena's Giants

RAYVILLE, La., Oct. 28 (Special)—The Rayville High School Hornets, who have been having a rough year within their own Class A circuit, came up with another stunner against higher class opposition tonight by downing the double-A Jena Giants, 27-21, in the Hornets' homecoming battle.

The rivals shared a 7-7 tie at the half on the strength of Raymond Manchester's 20-yard touchdown run for Jena, and Cary O'Neal's touchdown pass to Clayton Mayo for 18 yards and the Hornet score. Bridges converted the first of three points for Jena, and O'Neal booted his first of three for Rayville.

They matched two touchdowns apiece in the third quarter, but Rayville failed to convert behind one, and Jena led 21-20 entering the final quarter.

Bridges galloped 88 yards with the second half to shoot Jena ahead, and Manchester bagged his second TD for the Giants on a 15-yard run.

Greer plunged from the one for Rayville's second TD, and O'Connor passed to Mayo for another.

Then in the final period Weaver scooted 45 yards with the touchdown that handed Rayville the game.

The homecoming ceremony included the crowning of Arcola Livingston as queen. Maids were Mary A. Shamblin, Calire Smith, Frankie Stokes, and Linda Kay Ellington.

Miss Creed Cops Gulf Coast Title In Easy Triumph

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Clifford Ann Creed, 17-year-old Opelousas golfer, defeated Miss Allee Chatham of Greenwood, Miss., 8 and 7 today in the 36-hole finals of the Gulf Coast Women's Golf Assn. invitational tournament.

Miss Creed, recent winner of the Louisiana amateur title, trailed only once in the match. She was one down after three holes. She tied the match on the fourth hole with a par and took a two-up lead by winning the 7th and 8th holes with birdie threes. She never trailed after that.

At the end of the first 18 holes, Miss Creed, daughter of Opelousas Country Club pro Cliff Creed, had a 7-up lead. She carded a one under par 38-36 on the first 18. Miss Chatham had a 40-43.

Miss Creed faltered a bit on the afternoon round and Miss Chatham cut her lead to six holes at the 27-hole mark. But Miss Creed closed out the match by winning the 28th and 29th holes.

Springhill Wins Bastrop Contest By 41-26 Margin

BASTROP, La., Oct. 28 (Special)—The Springhill Lumberjacks poured on the steam in the last half to trounce the Bastrop Rams in a touchdown parade, 41 to 26, here tonight.

After a scoreless first half, Larry Ryder scored from the 12 to shoot Bastrop in front in the second quarter, and Bill Loftin kicked the point, but the 'Jacks finally got their machine rolling to send Session over from the two, and Haynes kicked the first of five conversions for himself to tie up the game.

Minutes later Springhill jumped ahead when Session passed to Hudson for a TD from the 24, and the 'Jacks held a 14-7 advantage at the half.

Ryder kept Bastrop in the game with an eight-yard TD run to start the second half, but the Rams missed a chance to tie with a point.

Then David Stone hit center from the one, and Session went over from the three for two more Springhill touchdowns in the third quarter.

Session scored his fourth TD to start the final quarter, and Ralph McKinstry plowed over from the one for another Bastrop TD, by downing the Waterproof Tigers, 7-0. The victory gives the Bears a 4-3 over-all mark for the season.

Tackle Carl Tullos picked up a Tiger fumble on their 24, and scooted the distance for the game's only six-pointer; and halfback Roscoe Wilson plunged the extra point across.

JONESVILLE, La., Oct. 28 (Special)—The Block High Bears won their third District 3-B game here in a homecoming tilt tonight, by downing the Waterproof Tigers, 7-0. The victory gives the Bears a 4-3 over-all mark for the season.

Tackle Carl Tullos picked up a Tiger fumble on their 24, and scooted the distance for the game's only six-pointer; and halfback Roscoe Wilson plunged the extra point across.

SLADE GETS NOD
CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 (AP)—Jimmy Slade of Far Rockaway, N.Y., won split decision tonight over Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson of New York in a 10-round fight. Jackson had figured as a stepping-stone to a heavyweight championship bout with Rocky Marciano. Both men entered the fray at 180 pounds.

LaSalle Defeats Sicily Islanders By 37-13 Margin

OLLA, La., Oct. 28 (Special)—LaSalle High School's Tigers added the Sicily Island Tigers to their list of vanquished football teams here tonight, scoring in every period for a 37-13 victory.

Quarterback Kenneth Winberry provided the pay-off punch on five of LaSalle's six touchdowns drives but kick-blocking and fumble-recovering linemen also contributed largely to the win, which kept LaSalle undefeated.

LaSalle scored once in the first quarter after Herschel Vinyard, tackle, blocked a kick on the Island 15 and Winberry crossed the double stripe from the six.

In the second period Julian Keene, linebacker, recovered a Sicily Island fumble on the Island 15 and two plays later Winberry scored on a sneak.

LaSalle tallied two touchdowns in the second quarter. Winberry went 70 yards to score on an option play with end Jay May clearing the way and later scored from the one immediately after he had made 25 yards on a fake pass and run play.

In the third period LaSalle made its only extra point of the night, Julian Keene kicking it after Winberry broke off tackle and went 50 yards to score.

Sicily Island also scored in the third, fullback Charles Gillespie making four yards on a trap play to account for the marker and tackle Sam Crawford kicking the bonus point.

Keene made the final LaSalle touchdown in the fourth, scoring on an off-tackle slant from the six.

Sicily Island's second touchdown came late in the fourth, set up by a fumble recovered on the LaSalle 12. B. K. Miller ran six yards for the marker.

Next Friday night LaSalle will host Many in homecoming festivities while Homer, also a leading contender for the district crown, meets St. John. Victories or losses by both LaSalle and Homer would throw the district race into a deadlock.

Trojans Trap Tigers, 18-13

By TED HECKATHORN
The Tallulah Trojans, returning the opening kickoff 85 yards to a touchdown at Neville Stadium last night, took a lead that they never relinquished, handing the Tigers their second loss of the season, and spoiling the gala Neville homecoming festivities, 18-13.

It was a couple of hard-running Trojan backs who did most of the damage to the Bengals in the first half. Lynn Naylor and Raymond Russell, the latter speeding unimpeded on the first play of the game, and scoring again before intermission on a ten-yarder. Naylor

Delhi Conquers Crowville Rival To Tune Of 40-7

DELHI, La., Oct. 28 (Special)—Roy O'Neal and Tommy Mathieu galloped for two touchdowns apiece tonight in guiding the Delhi Bears, leaders of their district Class B race, in a 40-7 conquest of the Class A Crowville Bulldogs. Buster Harrell and Travis Richards also had a touchdown apiece for the Delhi cause.

Harrell sneaked off tackle in the opening quarter to shoot the Bears ahead, and Bobby Leach kicked the first of his three conversions. O'Neal scored in the same quarter on a 10-yard dash, and not his second on an off-tackle smash in the third period.

Mathieu bagged his first TD on a pass from Leach in the second quarter, and capped all scoring in the fourth period with a 91-yard sprint after breaking through at tackle.

The Richards touchdown came on a third quarter pass from Thompson, the play covering 65 yards. Jim Britt also converted twice for Delhi.

Huey Martin got away on a nine-yard end run for Crowville's lone touchdown in the final period.

2 Gridders Sue Publication For Quarter Million

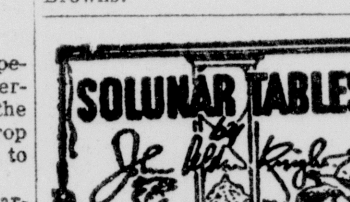

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28 (AP)—Frank (Buko) Kilroy and Wayne Robinson of the Philadelphia football Eagles today filed suit for $250,000 each against the publishers of Life magazine.

The suits, filed in U. S. district court, stemmed from an Oct. 24 Life article on professional football. The story, purported to show that the professional game as played in the National Football League has become increasingly rougher over the years.

The article, entitled "Savagery on Sunday," alleged that Kilroy, a 12-year veteran of pro ball, is one of the "bad men" of the league. The article claimed in a game two years ago against the New York Giants, the Philadelphia line-man deliberately fell on Giant quarterback Arnold Gallifa, causing an injury to Gallifa's spine.

Kilroy was injured in the Eagles' opening game this season against the same Giants. The magazine contends he was injured deliberately in payment for the Gallifa incident.

Robinson, of Robbinsdale, Minn., was accused of punching and kicking players of the Cleveland Browns.

3-Year Sentence Given In Theft Of Boat Motor

A three-year penitentiary sentence was assessed by Judge Jesse S. Heard in Fourth District court here yesterday.

Joseph Regnier, charged with theft of an outboard motor valued at $375, drew the three-year penitentiary sentence after changing his plea to guilty. He had jumped bond on a previous court-ordered appearance.

Virginia Wyatt, 24, was given a jail sentence of 15 months on a charge of stealing merchandise valued at $47.16 from a local department store and an additional six months in jail on a charge of writing worthless checks in the amount of $13.22.

Other sentenced included:

Otis F. Moore, who pleaded guilty to criminal neglect of his family and was given a six months jail sentence and placed on probation. He said that he would contribute to the support of his two children and terms of the probation included the payment of $25 weekly by him.

Huey Cotton, Negro, waived formal arraignment and pleaded guilty through his attorney to a charge of theft of $13 and following an explanation of the circumstances by the district attorney was given a six-month jail sentence that was suspended. A second charge against him for simple robbery was nolle prossed.

A one-year jail sentence was given to R. T. Williams, Negro, who changed his plea to guilty on a charge of simple robbery. Two others implicated in the crime had previously received similar sentences. The sentence ran from the date of incarceration. November 7 was the trial date set for Williams on another charge, that of public intimidation, when he pleaded not guilty.

Trials set for those in jail on felony charges included that of court officers as a field trip to a study of government.

A pretty brunette, Mrs. Wyatt, 24, was sentenced to 15 months in jail and six months in jail, respectively, on two charges, theft of merchandise valued at $47.16 and writing worthless checks valued at $13.22. The case had been remanded for a pre-sentence investigation.

Maurice J. Laird, accused of three counts of simple burglary and theft of an automobile valued at $1,000. Trial was set for Nov. 25.

Misdemeanors, in jail, to be arraigned included:

Opal Rose Danz, charged with vagrancy, pleaded not guilty, trial set for Dec. 9; Bill Rogers, Negro, guilty to driving without a chauffeur's license, fined $25 and costs, default 25 days; and Everett Bains, guilty, disturbing the peace, $25 and costs, or 25 days.

Misdemeanors, on bond, who pleaded guilty, included: Pete Musick, disturbing the peace, $25 and costs, or 25 days; James C. Snell, speeding, $50 costs or 50 days; Raymond G. Wiggins, reckless driving, $30 and costs or 30 days; John Lee Williams, driving while intoxicated, $300 and costs or 90 days and Charles B. Brown, driving without a chauffeur's license, $25 and costs or 25 days.

Walter Mitchell, Negro, also on bond, changed his plea to guilty to theft of wagon lines and corn sheller valued at $15 and was given a six-month jail sentence and placed on probation.

Misdemeanors of those on bond who pleaded not guilty and was set for trial include the following:

Clarence E. Christy, reckless driving, Dec. 2; Roberta Gilmore, reckless driving in the same incident, Dec. 2; Ida Green, Negro, reckless driving, Dec. 2; Ruth L. Greer, theft of $11.17, Dec. 2; Lee E. Provan, reckless driving, Dec. 2; and Lawrence A. Shoemaker, reckless driving, Dec. 9; Albert F. Welch of Sarasota, Fla., charged with driving while intoxicated, was called on his bond when he did not appear.

A short recess was taken about 10:30 before resuming with the cases set for trial. Among those docketed for trial included that of Bobby Gene Bollot, charged with four counts of theft.

Gladys Ann Watson, Negro, waived arraignment and pleaded guilty to issuing a worthless check for $21.80. She was given a six-month jail sentence which was suspended. Her attorney said restoration of the theft had been made.

The case of Florence D. Hudson, Negro, was remanded for sentencing until Monday, when her attorney entered a plea of guilty to obtaining welfare assistance by fraud.

Joseph Brown, Negro, changed his plea to guilty on two charges of simple burglary and the sentence was remanded for a pre-sentence investigation.

Felony set for trial included that of Lannie Dortch, who was present in court and is charged with armed robbery. Trial was set for November 21. He was charged with armed robbery of a Monroe poker game earlier this year, in which several thousand dollars were taken.

Evans Arthur, Negro, charged with attempted simple rape, court appointed an attorney, Nov. 22; Charles Ray Russell, armed robbery, Nov. 21; Frank Adams, Negro, two counts of simple burglary, both Nov. 22; Rosa Lee Coffey, Negro, receiving stolen property valued at $57.75, Nov. 22; Cleth Shaw, Negro, receiving stolen property valued at $49.52, Nov. 22; Claude Britton, theft of a tire valued at $20.40, not present but case was set for Nov. 25; Marvin O. Hamilton, theft of 25 calculators valued at $800, Nov. 10; West Monroe Freeman, simple burglary, Nov. 25; and Shelton Averitt, theft of coffee valued at $85.06, Nov. 23.

Others in this category included James Brock Wright, Negro, charged with three counts of attempted murder, all set for Nov. 25 and Thelma Henderson, Negro woman, also charged with attempted murder, set for Nov. 23.

Margaret drove in her limousine directly to the stately mansion located between Uckfield and the historic battlefield town of Hastings far south of rainy London, where press and public were becoming increasingly split over the propriety of the romance between the princess and divorced filer.

The queen, who must oppose any marriage to a divorced person as titular head of the Church of England and defender of the faith, also left London for an overnight train ride of 500 miles to Berthshire, Scotland. Her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, reported leading royal family opposition to the romance, flew on ahead of the queen.

Margaret and Townsend's first weekend together, only two days after the sultan returned to London on Oct. 13 on a home leave from his royal family - approved "exile" as air attaché in Brussels, was at a house party in Aulbury Park, the Windsor estate of Mrs. John Wills, Margaret's cousin and confidante.

Last weekend, Margaret was with the queen at Windsor Castle, talking over her difficult decision of love versus duty.

Margaret Joins Group Captain At Weekend Retreat

UCKFIELD, England, Oct. 28—UP—Princess Margaret and RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend drove to a rural retreat in quaint Sussex Friday, putting behind London controversy over their romance for their second weekend rendezvous.

The princess and Townsend rode separately to Uckfield House, home of young Lord Rupert Nevill and his wife, and joined each other after Townsend tried to give trailing newsmen the slip.

Margaret drove in her limousine directly to the stately mansion located between Uckfield and the historic battlefield town of Hastings far south of rainy London, where press and public were becoming increasingly split over the propriety of the romance between the princess and divorced filer.

Bastrop Optimist Club To Conduct Formative Meet

The new Optimist Club of Bastrop will hold its organizational meeting Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Arlies Cafe according to the announcement Friday at the regular meeting of the local club by Frank Bonner, vice-president who presided at the noonday meeting.

The new club, with 25 members, is being sponsored by the local club under direction of a committee of Merlin Milstead, president, Louis Stern and Tom Agnew who worked with a committee of Bastrop men headed by Sheriff Bob Harp.

Bonner also said Optimist Week would be observed in the Twin Cities the week of Nov. 6 to 12. A committee under the direction of Garland Moore and Grady Merriam are handling the arrangements for the local observance.

Plans were also discussed for furthering the sale of advance coupons for the purchase of Christmas trees which are sold annually by the club to raise funds for sponsoring the Babe Ruth baseball league and other boys work.

Alligator Fancier Released On Bond

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Oct. 28—UP—Joe Marcom, 21, who keeps alligators in his back yard, was under $100 bond Friday on a charge of violating a 1903 city ordinance.

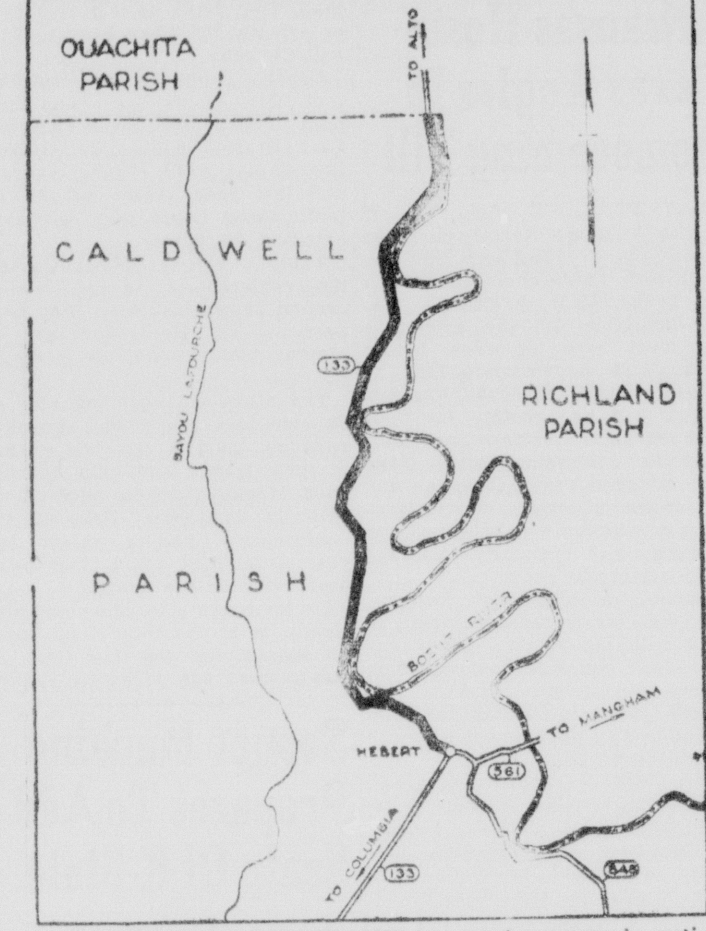

He was arrested under the ordinance which bans "any wild animals such as bears, panthers, wildcats, catamounts, leopard cats, snakes, lizards, gila monsters, etc."

City legal officials said they expected the alligators, each about four feet long, could be placed under the "etc." category.

FIRE EMPLOYEE SMASHES PLANE INTO BANK BUILDING—Benjamin Fauth, 28, lies dead (left center) in the wreckage of his small rented plane which crashed into the Bank of America branch at International Airport in Los Angeles. Police said bank employees reported Fauth was fired by the bank the day before because "his attitude was not serious enough." Witnesses said he apparently directed the plane right through a large window (rear right). The crash showered glass on the bank official who had fired him. Fauth was killed instantly. (AP Wirephoto)

THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT has set the process in motion for paving with asphalt concrete State Hwy. 133 along the 7 1/2 mile stretch in Caldwell Parish shown by solid dark line on map above, according to board chairman Sam Short. The official said a contract has been awarded to W. H. Patterson & Co. of Baton Rouge to surface the rural road to a width of 20 feet on basis of the firm's low bid of $174,415. Preliminary operations are under way and the job should be completed in May of 1956. (Map by La. Dept. of Hwys.)

Death Car Driver Sentenced To 5 Years In Prison

VIDALIA, Oct. 28 — (Special) — Randall Brian, 24, a field worker whose car sped past a waiting school bus last week and killed Theo Rabb Adams, 11, was sentenced Friday to five years in hard labor in the state penitentiary.

Brian plead guilty to a charge of negligent homicide before Judge Jesse McGee in Seventh District court.

The 11-year-old child was killed October 21 about four miles west of Ferriday. His nine-year-old sister, Jacqueline, was also injured by Brian's automobile.

The accident occurred when the children's school bus stopped in front of their home to let them off. According to Concordia parish sheriff, Noah W. Cross, Brian passed two vehicles and then the bus. He swerved into the Adams driveway and struck the two children.

Observers said the car knocked Theo down and passed over him and that his sister was thrown up onto the hood, then off to the side.

Brian was arrested when his car stopped 227 feet further down the road in a ditch by State Trooper Marjorie Bennett and Concordia Deputy Sheriff Al Rials.

Man Is Recovering From Fall Injuries

W. L. Johnson, about 50, Little Rock, Ark., was receiving treatment at Wright-Bendel Clinic yesterday for a severe laceration of the elbow he suffered Thursday when he slipped and fell while stepping from a passenger train at the Missouri Pacific station here.

Two railroad employees pulled Johnson from under the train just in time to keep the wheels from hitting his head, witnesses to the accident reported.

Operation At Station Slated For Next Week

COLUMBIA, Oct. 28—(Special)—Texas Gas Transmission Corp. announced today that the 4,500 horsepower Columbia compressor station would be placed in full operation next week.

Operation will begin when the last of three giant engines is turned on to help pump gas along the Texas gas pipeline system. Station Manager Louis Floyd said that only "cleaning up" details remain in the construction project. The new station has attracted widespread interest in the Columbia and Riverton areas since construction crews began moving in their equipment last May. Approximately 20 men will be employed at the station when all personnel assignments have been made, according to Floyd. The facility is considered a new "industry" for Caldwell parish.

Site of the compressor operations is about three and a half miles north of Columbia on U. S. Highway 65. The 21-acre plot formerly was part of the Tom Earl Duke farm.

The Columbia station will be the 22nd in the 3,000-mile Texas Gas system and is part of an $18,000,000 expansion program the company is completing in 1955. Texas Gas gathers gas in south Louisiana and east Texas fields and delivers it to utility and industrial customers in more than 200 communities in eight states.

Columbia, served by another pipeline company, does not receive its gas supply from Texas Gas. However, the Texas Gas pipeline passes through Caldwell parish and the station will be an important part of the company's operations. It is the first station on the Texas Gas pipeline northward from the south Louisiana gas fields. As the normal field pressure in the line lessens, the Columbia station will rebuild the pressure and pump gas on up the line.

Floyd and six of his assistants already have moved their families into the seven modern houses constructed at the station site for certain key personnel. Most of the employees at the new station have been transferred here from other company locations.

Floyd formerly was manager of the company's Haughton, La., station. A native of Gurdon, Ark., he has been associated with the Texas Gas organization since 1945. Floyd's top assistant is H. W. Free, maintenance foreman, who held a similar position at the company's Benoit, Miss., station. Free is a native of Mangham and has been with the Texas Gas since 1944.

Occupants of the other company houses are chief operators. They head crews that maintain operations 24 hours a day. These experienced men, with their former compressor station locations, are: Lonnie A. Sullivan and Henry E. Newton, both of Haughton; William T. Dumas, Wilmet, Ark.; Clair V. Dopson, Lake Cormorant, Miss., and Josh R. Hollis, Sharon, Miss. The remaining personnel will be added within the next few days, said Floyd.

Longview Equipment Co. of Monroe was the construction contractor for the station's operational buildings. Contractor for this project was W. C. Salley Construction Co. of Monroe.
